

ALLIES CLAIM ADVANCE IN FURIOUS FIGHTING ALONG THE NORTH SEA

HAVE ESTABLISHED FRONT BETWEEN YPRES AND ROULERS CHECKING GERMAN ADVANCE AT YSER RIVER.

HEAVY TOLL OF LIVES

Terrific Attack of Germans Accompanied by Heavy Firing From Allies' Warships Results in Worst Slaughter of War.

The supreme efforts of the fighting men of five nations have failed to turn the tide of battle along the Franco-Belgian border. The latest reports today were that a struggle of unparalleled fury was still in progress along the North Sea where the Germans with reckless bravery are flinging their troops against the allies' forces.

The French official statement indicates that an attempt to cut off the German right wing has made some progress. If, as is said, the Allies have established a front from Ypres to Roulers, the German line has been thrust back in a sharp angle, the point of which is considerably to the north-east of their forces on the shore of the North Sea. The German movement to cross the Yser which presents a menacing aspect to the Allies has been checked the war of sea says.

All accounts agree that the toll of human life exacted in this crucial struggle is enormous.

From the remainder of the long line of battle there is no work. Apparently both sides are awaiting the outcome of the conflict of the north upon which depends future plans of campaign. It is probable that heavy fighting is in progress to the north of Verdun, where the army of the German crown prince is making a desperate effort to pierce the French line.

Reports from the eastern front indicate that the greatest battle of the war in that area is impending. Austria in its latest official statement makes the claim to having thrust strong forces across the Carpathians in the face of determined resistance.

German and Austrian forces, it is said, have now a strong wall of troops along a well established line which stretched from the northern spurs to the Carpathians before the long disputed fortress of Przemyśl, on into the district of Plock.

Before this line is arrayed the main army of the Russians now said to have been reinforced by troops from Siberia, Caucasus and Turkistan. The Austrians claim successes in an engagement to the northeast of Przemyśl and on the Lower San.

Later dispatches from Petrograd say that the Germans are continuing their "precipitate retreat," and have evacuated Lodz in Poland.

Recent reports that relations between China and Japan were being strained, were strengthened by word from Peking that the Chinese foreign minister had demanded the surrender of a Japanese torpedo boat which entered Chinese waters and attempted to tow away the wreckage of the torpedo boat beached by the Germans to escape destruction by the Japanese.

A message from Berlin confirmed recent reports that General von Moltke was no longer acting as chief of the German general staff owing to his illness, it is said, his place is being filled by General von Falkenhayn.

whether wrestling if they have been able to push forward or whether they have met with such opposition from the British and Belgian armies as to be held from swaying beyond the western banks, is yet to be recorded in final statements. The fighting in this canal-washed section of Belgium covers a comparatively small area of the whole battle line in France and Belgium, but here unquestionably the dead lies thickest. This fact is due to the German forces, but also to the accurate fire of the British and French warships.

"Advices from the front this morning," telegraphs the Paris correspondent of the Reuters Telegraph Company, "indicates a general allied advance in the region of Neuport and Ypres, as well as to the east of Arras. London, Oct. 26.—As claimed by Berlin and London, the Germans undoubtedly have crossed the Yser river between Dixmude and Neuport, but whether this means a forward step in the "on the Calais" movement, or a retreat, is not clear. Rumors continue to reach London of the impending evacuation of Ostend and the reduction in strength of the German army. This does not necessarily imply preparations for a retreat, but it may mean that the Germans are throwing every available man against the allies' left in their efforts to conquer the channel port.

Ship projectiles effective. Along the Belgian Littoral the great guns traveling three miles inland evidently have proved very effective. Judging from the tragic fate of Gen. Von Trip and members of his staff, killed by a projectile from a warship, in West Flanders had been leveled beyond any other during the war. Projectiles hurled from the land, the sea and the air are sweeping the terrified inhabitants who delayed too long in getting out of the line of fire.

Paris reports that to the left and south of Lille fierce attacks by German troops have been repulsed. A significant part of the Paris communication relates that the French, with their heavy artillery, command the line of German communications with St. Mihiel, the holding of which by the invaders has constituted one of the greatest menaces to the allied line.

Aerial Service Reorganized. Reports indicate that the French aerial service has responded to the demand for reorganization which is evident in the proved very effective. Judging from the tragic fate of Gen. Von Trip and members of his staff, killed by a projectile from a warship, in West Flanders had been leveled beyond any other during the war. Projectiles hurled from the land, the sea and the air are sweeping the terrified inhabitants who delayed too long in getting out of the line of fire.

The question of the early return of the German government to Paris is being seriously considered. This indicates that the military situation is satisfactory from the standpoint of the allies, but it also indicates that the battle along the sea coast, because of German advances near La Bassée, will be more prolonged than at first anticipated. If the government returns to Paris, such a step undoubtedly will have a tremendous moral effect.

Essad Pasha, the chronic disturber of the peace of Arabia, is said to have been driven from his position in the north of the Red Sea. It is reported that he has fled to the east of the Red Sea, and is now in the hands of the British. This is a step which might not meet with favor in Austria-Hungary.

Allies Redoubled Efforts. Paris, Oct. 26.—In the battle of the Yser, the army of Belgium, but a nation exasperated representing the most dreadful invasion a people has had to face, is the day the French characterizes as the contest along the left wing while they to the English redoubled their efforts to beat back the formidable mass of German troops.

The latest alternatives of advance and withdrawal along the part of the line, the Germans particularly in the north, furnished early on day no basis for a summing up as to general results. The Germans judge from their rightful sacrifice of men seemed determined to force the battle to an issue. Nevertheless, the French plan indicated in the latest war statement, continued optimistic.

Official French Statement. The French official communication given out this afternoon says that the German advance near Dixmude was maintained. The text of the communication follows: "During the day yesterday our front along the general line between Neuport and Dixmude was maintained. Our front was held also in the region between Ypres and Roulers, the west of La Bassée and of Lens, and the east of Arras. This line is continued to the south of the line which already has been indicated in these official communications. During the fighting of yesterday the enemy seems to have sustained considerable losses."

Over Three Hundred Thousand British, French, Belgians and Russians Are Held Captives.

London, Oct. 26.—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says that according to the number of prisoners captured by the Germans up to Oct. 21 aggregated 296,589, including 5,601 Germans. Of these it is said there are 2,472 French officers and 184,324 French soldiers, 541 British officers and 31,273 British soldiers, and 21 British officers and 21 British soldiers.

London, Oct. 26.—What progress, if any, the German army has made since crossing the Yser between Neuport and Dixmude in Belgium on Saturday, stood high above all other questions asked in England concerning the situation of the allied armies.

That the Germans crossed this barrier is admitted by both sides, but

PUSH GERMAN BACK IN WARSAW REGION

Petrograd Claims Russians Have Forced Retirement of Kaiser's Armies in Poland.

London, Oct. 26.—Reports from Vienna indicate that along the battle line from the Carpathians to the Russian border through Galicia the fighting continues, but without any definite results. Petrograd claims that the Germans still are retreating from Warsaw in precipitate flight and are also evacuating Lodz. The Germans attempted to arrest the Russian offensive movement at Sokhatchoff, but were dislodged from their positions there with heavy losses.

Germans Forced Back. Paris, Oct. 26.—The official French communication today has the following to say in regard to the situation in Poland: "To the west of the Vistula and to the north of the Pielica the Germans have been forced back on Lodz. Skierniewice and Rawa, which have been captured at the bayonets point by the Russians. To the south of the Pielica in the direction of Radom there has been a lively engagement between the Russians and the Austro-Germans, who lost prisoners and cannon."

Russians Cross Vistula. "To the south of Solac the Russian troops crossed the Vistula by main force, driving the Austrians back. On the river San and to the south of Przemyśl there have occurred stubborn combats resulting favorably to the Russians. An Austrian column debouching from the Carpathians on Dolina (in Galicia, 22 miles south of Styra), was routed."

MILLIONAIRE DOOMED TO PAY FOR MURDER

St. Louis Balloonist Will Be Executed This Week in Canon City, Colorado.

Canon City, Colo., October 26.—Harold F. Henwood, slayer of Sylvester L. "Tony" Von Paul, the St. Louis millionaire balloonist and Geo. A. Copeland, of Chicago, Ill., will pay the penalty for his crime. He is to be hanged shortly at the Colorado State Prison, according to an announcement made today, thus carrying out the mandate of the Colorado supreme court which was issued on October 25, for his execution.

The execution brought to a close one of the most famous murder cases in the west's recent history. Henwood, a polished man of the world, came to Denver in February, 1911 with letters of introduction from prominent New Yorkers to John W. Springer, millionaire banker and cattleman. Henwood became an intimate friend of Springer and his beautiful young wife, Mrs. Springer, after having met Mrs. Springer at Hot Springs a short time ago. Henwood wrote the balloonist after she returned to Denver. They spoke during the night, gave all and asked nothing in return.

Henwood and Von Paul quickly developed a mutual hatred and quarreled frequently over Mrs. Springer. The recovery of the letters Mrs. Springer had written to him led to the tragedy. She asked Henwood to recover the letters, declaring Von Paul had threatened to turn them over to Springer.

On May 24, 1911 Henwood and Von Paul met by appointment in a room in the Brown hotel. Henwood demanded the letters and he alleged that Von Paul, who had been drinking, struck him with a shoe and threatened to kill him. Henwood appealed to the police to "run Von Paul out of town," but the police declared "John Springer is big enough to protect his own wife." Henwood went to the theater and later stepped into the Brown hotel bar to get a drink. Just before midnight Von Paul, who had been drinking heavily, entered the bar and, according to witnesses, began abusing Henwood. The men quarreled and Von Paul finally knocked Henwood down.

As he was lying on the floor, Henwood saw a revolver and began to shoot. Two bullets struck Von Paul in the back, two others struck Copeland and a fifth hit J. N. Atkinson in the leg. Copeland and Von Paul died of their wounds. Henwood was arrested and charged with the murder. He was found guilty of murder in the second degree. He was sentenced to life imprisonment, but appealed and won a new trial. The supreme court on February 2, 1913 ordered the case remanded to the trial court on error.

The second trial began June 3, 1913 and lasted two weeks, ending in the conviction of Henwood of first degree murder. He was sentenced to hang. The prisoner's second fight for liberty began at once in the supreme court but it failed and on July 8, 1914 he was sentenced to be hanged during the week of October 26.

LONDON PAPERS IN ATTACK ON ENGLISH PENSION SYSTEM

Men Today Are Making Good Wages In Lines of Work, Is Main Objection.

London, Oct. 26.—Five shillings a week to the soldier's wife who has lost her husband in fighting his country's battles! With this exclamation one of the leading London papers attacks editorially the government's pension system, which it says is due to the old tradition summed up in Wellington's assertion that his troops in the Spanish Campaign were only "the scum of the earth." The War Office, according to the writer, fails to realize that times are different now and the vast majority of volunteers are men who in civil life earned good wages in factory, field, office and shop.

The pension system has been expressed in parliament, so that it is not unlikely some reform in pensions may follow.

In the British army the pay of officers and men is dependent on the regiment. There is no standard scale of pay as in America. Commissioned officers, as a rule, receive a sum impossible to live on—about $35 a month. They must therefore depend on means and in the crack regiments, such as the Scots Greys or the Grenadier Guards they must be wealthy, with polo ponies, valets and expensive uniforms. But in the case of the colonial troops doing police duty in lands bordered by savages, they get as good pay as American officers and do not have to keep up expensive establishments.

ordinary infantrymen in the new volunteer army of a million men, pledged to foreign service, are started off at $1.65 a week, clear of expenses. Married men are allowed in addition separation pay for their families at the rate of $1.90 a week for the wife and two pence a day—or 23 cents a week—for each child. In the county of London they are given a further sum of 50 cents a week, owing to the higher cost of living.

All married soldiers serving abroad are obliged to allot at least 85 cents a week to their families out of their own pay. Worked out on this scale the lowest sum a soldier's wife with out children can receive is 23 shillings a week in the case of a warrant officer, 22 for a regimental quartermaster sergeant, 16 shillings six pence for a corporal, and so on. If the wife has four children to support, she will receive, on the same scale, a sum ranging from 34 to 22 shillings.

Widows of men who die on active service receive from five to ten shillings a week, according to the rank and pay of the husband. But the mass of them will not get over five shillings a week. Allowance varying from forty to fifty cents a week for each child is given, however.

While there are no government homes for old soldiers in Great Britain, as in the United States, there are certain homes maintained by private charity. Of these, the largest and most famous is in Chelsea, London. The garden party given at the Chelsea home for its benefit is one of the big social events of London's spring season.

Much suffering was caused by the government deterring the payment of separation allowances to soldiers during the war. Not until October 1 was this money put into the hands of the destitute women. War office red tape also held up pay allotments.

SUICIDE SETS FIRE IN ROOMING HOUSE

Marinette Man, Crazed by Drink, Slashes Throat and Sets House on Fire.

Marinette, Wis., Oct. 26.—William Smith, aged 65, a bachelor, committed suicide in a dramatic manner last night by first setting fire to the house in which he was rooming and then cutting his throat and wrists with a knife. An aged landlady, who was sleeping in the room, was awakened by the fire and gave the alarm. The firemen found Smith's body across the doorway.

Smith was a heavy drinker and is supposed to have suffered from alcoholism when he burned the house and killed himself.

EX-KING MANUEL WANTS PORTUGAL TO JOIN ALLIES

In a recent letter to Portuguese royalists, ex-king Manuel advises that the extreme gravity of events must temporarily suppress every political consideration, and says: "Strive only as Portuguese to maintain the integrity of your country, whether serving in Portugal in defense of your homes or fighting in the ranks of the allies."

In a recent letter to Portuguese royalists, ex-king Manuel advises that the extreme gravity of events must temporarily suppress every political consideration, and says: "Strive only as Portuguese to maintain the integrity of your country, whether serving in Portugal in defense of your homes or fighting in the ranks of the allies."

Manuel, who resides on Hyatt street, in this city, and Oscar P. Euzes were united in marriage at Rockford Saturday by Rev. Henry L. Martin. Miss Elsie Silver attended the bride and Claude Silver was best man.

PREPARE MACHINERY OF RESERVE SYSTEM

Secretary McAdoo Gets Ready for Formal Opening of Federal Reserve Banks on Nov. 16.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Steps to set in motion the machinery of the new banking system, the opening of business, which has been fixed officially by Secretary McAdoo for Nov. 16, were being taken here today by the federal reserve board.

Married at Rockford: Miss Mabel Tyler, who resides on Hyatt street, in this city, and Oscar P. Euzes were united in marriage at Rockford Saturday by Rev. Henry L. Martin. Miss Elsie Silver attended the bride and Claude Silver was best man.

LONDON PAPERS IN ATTACK ON ENGLISH PENSION SYSTEM

Men Today Are Making Good Wages In Lines of Work, Is Main Objection.

London, Oct. 26.—Five shillings a week to the soldier's wife who has lost her husband in fighting his country's battles! With this exclamation one of the leading London papers attacks editorially the government's pension system, which it says is due to the old tradition summed up in Wellington's assertion that his troops in the Spanish Campaign were only "the scum of the earth." The War Office, according to the writer, fails to realize that times are different now and the vast majority of volunteers are men who in civil life earned good wages in factory, field, office and shop.

The pension system has been expressed in parliament, so that it is not unlikely some reform in pensions may follow.

In the British army the pay of officers and men is dependent on the regiment. There is no standard scale of pay as in America. Commissioned officers, as a rule, receive a sum impossible to live on—about $35 a month. They must therefore depend on means and in the crack regiments, such as the Scots Greys or the Grenadier Guards they must be wealthy, with polo ponies, valets and expensive uniforms. But in the case of the colonial troops doing police duty in lands bordered by savages, they get as good pay as American officers and do not have to keep up expensive establishments.

ordinary infantrymen in the new volunteer army of a million men, pledged to foreign service, are started off at $1.65 a week, clear of expenses. Married men are allowed in addition separation pay for their families at the rate of $1.90 a week for the wife and two pence a day—or 23 cents a week—for each child. In the county of London they are given a further sum of 50 cents a week, owing to the higher cost of living.

All married soldiers serving abroad are obliged to allot at least 85 cents a week to their families out of their own pay. Worked out on this scale the lowest sum a soldier's wife with out children can receive is 23 shillings a week in the case of a warrant officer, 22 for a regimental quartermaster sergeant, 16 shillings six pence for a corporal, and so on. If the wife has four children to support, she will receive, on the same scale, a sum ranging from 34 to 22 shillings.

Widows of men who die on active service receive from five to ten shillings a week, according to the rank and pay of the husband. But the mass of them will not get over five shillings a week. Allowance varying from forty to fifty cents a week for each child is given, however.

While there are no government homes for old soldiers in Great Britain, as in the United States, there are certain homes maintained by private charity. Of these, the largest and most famous is in Chelsea, London. The garden party given at the Chelsea home for its benefit is one of the big social events of London's spring season.

Much suffering was caused by the government deterring the payment of separation allowances to soldiers during the war. Not until October 1 was this money put into the hands of the destitute women. War office red tape also held up pay allotments.

PUSH GERMAN BACK IN WARSAW REGION

Petrograd Claims Russians Have Forced Retirement of Kaiser's Armies in Poland.

London, Oct. 26.—Reports from Vienna indicate that along the battle line from the Carpathians to the Russian border through Galicia the fighting continues, but without any definite results. Petrograd claims that the Germans still are retreating from Warsaw in precipitate flight and are also evacuating Lodz. The Germans attempted to arrest the Russian offensive movement at Sokhatchoff, but were dislodged from their positions there with heavy losses.

Germans Forced Back. Paris, Oct. 26.—The official French communication today has the following to say in regard to the situation in Poland: "To the west of the Vistula and to the north of the Pielica the Germans have been forced back on Lodz. Skierniewice and Rawa, which have been captured at the bayonets point by the Russians. To the south of the Pielica in the direction of Radom there has been a lively engagement between the Russians and the Austro-Germans, who lost prisoners and cannon."

Russians Cross Vistula. "To the south of Solac the Russian troops crossed the Vistula by main force, driving the Austrians back. On the river San and to the south of Przemyśl there have occurred stubborn combats resulting favorably to the Russians. An Austrian column debouching from the Carpathians on Dolina (in Galicia, 22 miles south of Styra), was routed."

MILLIONAIRE DOOMED TO PAY FOR MURDER

St. Louis Balloonist Will Be Executed This Week in Canon City, Colorado.

Canon City, Colo., October 26.—Harold F. Henwood, slayer of Sylvester L. "Tony" Von Paul, the St. Louis millionaire balloonist and Geo. A. Copeland, of Chicago, Ill., will pay the penalty for his crime. He is to be hanged shortly at the Colorado State Prison, according to an announcement made today, thus carrying out the mandate of the Colorado supreme court which was issued on October 25, for his execution.

The execution brought to a close one of the most famous murder cases in the west's recent history. Henwood, a polished man of the world, came to Denver in February, 1911 with letters of introduction from prominent New Yorkers to John W. Springer, millionaire banker and cattleman. Henwood became an intimate friend of Springer and his beautiful young wife, Mrs. Springer, after having met Mrs. Springer at Hot Springs a short time ago. Henwood wrote the balloonist after she returned to Denver. They spoke during the night, gave all and asked nothing in return.

Henwood and Von Paul quickly developed a mutual hatred and quarreled frequently over Mrs. Springer. The recovery of the letters Mrs. Springer had written to him led to the tragedy. She asked Henwood to recover the letters, declaring Von Paul had threatened to turn them over to Springer.

On May 24, 1911 Henwood and Von Paul met by appointment in a room in the Brown hotel. Henwood demanded the letters and he alleged that Von Paul, who had been drinking, struck him with a shoe and threatened to kill him. Henwood appealed to the police to "run Von Paul out of town," but the police declared "John Springer is big enough to protect his own wife." Henwood went to the theater and later stepped into the Brown hotel bar to get a drink. Just before midnight Von Paul, who had been drinking heavily, entered the bar and, according to witnesses, began abusing Henwood. The men quarreled and Von Paul finally knocked Henwood down.

As he was lying on the floor, Henwood saw a revolver and began to shoot. Two bullets struck Von Paul in the back, two others struck Copeland and a fifth hit J. N. Atkinson in the leg. Copeland and Von Paul died of their wounds. Henwood was arrested and charged with the murder. He was found guilty of murder in the second degree. He was sentenced to life imprisonment, but appealed and won a new trial. The supreme court on February 2, 1913 ordered the case remanded to the trial court on error.

The second trial began June 3, 1913 and lasted two weeks, ending in the conviction of Henwood of first degree murder. He was sentenced to hang. The prisoner's second fight for liberty began at once in the supreme court but it failed and on July 8, 1914 he was sentenced to be hanged during the week of October 26.

SUICIDE SETS FIRE IN ROOMING HOUSE

Marinette Man, Crazed by Drink, Slashes Throat and Sets House on Fire.

Marinette, Wis., Oct. 26.—William Smith, aged 65, a bachelor, committed suicide in a dramatic manner last night by first setting fire to the house in which he was rooming and then cutting his throat and wrists with a knife. An aged landlady, who was sleeping in the room, was awakened by the fire and gave the alarm. The firemen found Smith's body across the doorway.

Smith was a heavy drinker and is supposed to have suffered from alcoholism when he burned the house and killed himself.

EX-KING MANUEL WANTS PORTUGAL TO JOIN ALLIES

In a recent letter to Portuguese royalists, ex-king Manuel advises that the extreme gravity of events must temporarily suppress every political consideration, and says: "Strive only as Portuguese to maintain the integrity of your country, whether serving in Portugal in defense of your homes or fighting in the ranks of the allies."

In a recent letter to Portuguese royalists, ex-king Manuel advises that the extreme gravity of events must temporarily suppress every political consideration, and says: "Strive only as Portuguese to maintain the integrity of your country, whether serving in Portugal in defense of your homes or fighting in the ranks of the allies."

Manuel, who resides on Hyatt street, in this city, and Oscar P. Euzes were united in marriage at Rockford Saturday by Rev. Henry L. Martin. Miss Elsie Silver attended the bride and Claude Silver was best man.

PREPARE MACHINERY OF RESERVE SYSTEM

Secretary McAdoo Gets Ready for Formal Opening of Federal Reserve Banks on Nov. 16.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Steps to set in motion the machinery of the new banking system, the opening of business, which has been fixed officially by Secretary McAdoo for Nov. 16, were being taken here today by the federal reserve board.

Married at Rockford: Miss Mabel Tyler, who resides on Hyatt street, in this city, and Oscar P. Euzes were united in marriage at Rockford Saturday by Rev. Henry L. Martin. Miss Elsie Silver attended the bride and Claude Silver was best man.

LONDON PAPERS IN ATTACK ON ENGLISH PENSION SYSTEM

Men Today Are Making Good Wages In Lines of Work, Is Main Objection.

London, Oct. 26.—Five shillings a week to the soldier's wife who has lost her husband in fighting his country's battles! With this exclamation one of the leading London papers attacks editorially the government's pension system, which it says is due to the old tradition summed up in Wellington's assertion that his troops in the Spanish Campaign were only "the scum of the earth." The War Office, according to the writer, fails to realize that times are different now and the vast majority of volunteers are men who in civil life earned good wages in factory, field, office and shop.

The pension system has been expressed in parliament, so that it is not unlikely some reform in pensions may follow.

In the British army the pay of officers and men is dependent on the regiment. There is no standard scale of pay as in America. Commissioned officers, as a rule, receive a sum impossible to live on—about $35 a month. They must therefore depend on means and in the crack regiments, such as the Scots Greys or the Grenadier Guards they must be wealthy, with polo ponies, valets and expensive uniforms. But in the case of the colonial troops doing police duty in lands bordered by savages, they get as good pay as American officers and do not have to keep up expensive establishments.

ordinary infantrymen in the new volunteer army of a million men, pledged to foreign service, are started off at $1.65 a week, clear of expenses. Married men are allowed in addition separation pay for their families at the rate of $1.90 a week for the wife and two pence a day—or 23 cents a week—for each child. In the county of London they are given a further sum of 50 cents a week, owing to the higher cost of living.

All married soldiers serving abroad are obliged to allot at least 85 cents a week to their families out of their own pay. Worked out on this scale the lowest sum a soldier's wife with out children can receive is 23 shillings a week in the case of a warrant officer, 22 for a regimental quartermaster sergeant, 16 shillings six pence for a corporal, and so on. If the wife has four children to support, she will receive, on the same scale, a sum ranging from 34 to 22 shillings.

Widows of men who die on active service receive from five to ten shillings a week, according to the rank and pay of the husband. But the mass of them will not get over five shillings a week. Allowance varying from forty to fifty cents a week for each child is given, however.

While there are no government homes for old soldiers in Great Britain, as in the United States, there are certain homes maintained by private charity. Of these, the largest and most famous is in Chelsea, London. The garden party given at the Chelsea home for its benefit is one of the big social events of London's spring season.

Much suffering was caused by the government deterring the payment of separation allowances to soldiers during the war. Not until October 1 was this money put into the hands of the destitute women. War office red tape also held up pay allotments.

PFANSCHMIDT FOUND NOT GUILTY TODAY

Quincy Lad Acquitted on Charge of Murdering Sister, Is Still Held for Killing Three Others.

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 26.—Ray Pfanschmidt was found not guilty of the murder of his sister, Blanche Pfanschmidt, by a jury in the McDonough county circuit court at Macomb today. Pfanschmidt is still held on the charge of murdering his father, mother, and Miss Emma Kampen, a school teacher, who were found dead in the ruins of the Pfanschmidt home eleven miles southeast of Quincy, Ill., September 29, 1912. It was the testimony of experts at the trial that the four victims were killed and their bodies burned.

Ray, then not twenty-one years of age, and only surviving member of the family, was accused of the crime. Bloodhounds followed a trail to the camp where he made his headquarters and later he was arrested on a bloody knifed suit such as he had worn was found.

The first trial of Ray Pfanschmidt began in the circuit court of Adams county, Ill., on July 15, 1913, and lasted a day more than a month. The state attempted to prove that Pfanschmidt, heavily in debt, and engaged to marry Esther Reader killed his father, mother and sister in order to inherit the Pfanschmidt estate, and be the beneficiary of insurance carried by his father and mother.

The first jury on the first trial unanimously voted Pfanschmidt guilty. Judge Williams denied the motion for a new trial and on July 8, sentenced Pfanschmidt to be hanged Oct. 15. A writ of supersedeas was granted and the case was taken to the supreme court of Illinois in a writ of error.

AFFIRMS REPORT OF "NO QUARTER" ORDERS

French Embassy at Washington Claims Proofs Stenger Gave Such Directions Are Obtained.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The French embassy today issued the following statement: "A report appeared in the press some time ago according to which General Stenger, commander of a brigade of the German army in France had issued an order to his troops directing them to give no quarter to any prisoners but to shoot them all, and finish the wounded."

"An official statement" from Berlin via Sayville, was issued thereupon declaring that this was an impudent lie.

The atrocious order had nevertheless been given and was carried out, and proof of it is in the hands of the French government. Over 20 German prisoners of the 12th and 22nd regiments of the 1st (forming the Stenger brigade) are now held in France at Mont Brison and St. Etienne.

They have declared under oath before the magistracy that this order was actually issued on the 26th of August, and that in accordance with it all French wounded found that day were at once dispatched. Officers and notably Captain Citrard, of the 12th regiment, superintended the execution."

LA FOLLETTE COMING TO SUPPORT BLAINE

Badger Senator Will Arrive in Madison on Wednesday to Assist Progressive Candidate.

Washington, Oct. 26.—"I shall leave for Wisconsin tonight and arrive at Madison Wednesday morning and will take the platform immediately in behalf of Blaine, the only progressive candidate for governor. So long as Congress is in session, I could not make this announcement. I felt it my duty to remain here, but now I feel I must go back to Wisconsin and do what I can to aid the men who are making the fight to maintain the progressive ideas of that state."

This was the statement of Senator La Follette as he busied himself about his home in preparation for his departure to Wisconsin.

He appears to be in good health. He would not make any definite statement as to how many speeches he would deliver. He said that would depend on how well he stood up under the work.

"You can assure the boys they can have every ounce of strength I have. There has never been more important contest in Wisconsin. There has never been one in which the issues are more clearly defined."

SPRING-RICE WARNS AMERICAN SHIPPERS

All Cargoes Bound for Neutral Countries Must Be Consigned to a Specific Consignee.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Sir Cecil Spring Rice by instructions of Ambassador Gray, issued a warning today to American shippers through the state department to consign all cargoes bound for neutral countries to the neutral government or a specific consignee.

MRS. CARMAN FREED ON BAIL BY COURT

Mrs. Carman Released on Twenty-Five Thousand Dollar Bail After Jury Disagrees.

New York, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, on trial in Minneola last week for the murder of Mrs. Lauba Bailey, was released on $25,000 bail by Justice Chas. H. Kelly, in the King's county supreme court in Brooklyn, this afternoon. Accompanied by her attorneys she started for home.

BETTER PUBLICITY TO BE ADAMS' PLEA

Tax Commissioner Will Tell Governors How to Make Musty Official Reports Interesting.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—Official press agents for states and cities are to be recommended to the Governors' Conference, which is to meet in Madison, Wis., November 10 to 14, and which is to be attended by governors, former governors and governors-elect from the forty-eight states.

The dry-dust official report as a means of informing the people about the workings of their governments is to be assailed by T. S. Adams, secretary of the National Tax association, who is to appear before the governors' conference in a plea for better publicity for all divisions of government, state, city, village, county and township.

Adams to be conservative. When Mr. Adams' doubtless will be conservative enough in his recommendation and may urge nothing more sensational than the publishing of a simplified statement which can be easily understood by the voters, it is known that some of the voters, who have advanced ideas on the subject of publicity, will advocate some more likely to awaken a drowsy public. It is expected that some suggestion will be made for the employment of publicity experts to prepare news and feature stories on the activities of government in some of the states, certain public institutions, and occasionally cities, have experimented with the employment of press agents. The success of these experiments probably will be mentioned in the discussion of Mr. Adams' proposal.

Recognize insufficiency. Practically all states and cities now recognize the inadequacy of the voluminous statistical report as a means of publicity. Much complaint has been made against the musty and uninteresting presentation of facts. Therefore, the proposal to enliven official statements with a touch of human interest promises to receive much support.

APPEAL IS MADE ON FRANK MURDER CASE

Factory Superintendent Making Fight to Save Life in Georgia Supreme Court.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 26.—The fight for life of Leo N. Frank, young Atlanta factory superintendent under sentence of death for alleged murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan, was continued today in the Georgia supreme court.

Two motions of Frank, whose conviction was based almost entirely on circumstantial evidence and the confession of alleged accomplices, and has attracted nationwide interest, have been before the court. Arguments were begun today upon the motion to set aside the conviction and death penalty because of the absence from the jury brought in the verdict. Frank's attorneys claim that the jury was not properly instructed and that the motion to set aside the verdict is denied by this court, will be the basis of an appeal to the U. S. supreme court.

Another motion, which was denied October 14, was a request for a new trial based upon alleged discovery of new evidence since his conviction. This motion was based mainly upon the sensational movie early this month of William M. Smith, former attorney for "Jim" Conley, an alleged negro accomplice of Frank. Smith declared he was Conley's attorney, that Conley was the murderer of Mary Phagan and that Frank is innocent.

New evidence alleged to have been discovered by Detective William J. Burns of New York during a tempestuous "sleuthing" expedition in Atlanta in Frank's behalf was also said to be a big card held by the defense. Burns got into a row with the Atlanta police because he was not allowed to "practice" in Georgia. Burns claims to have discovered evidence that the Phagan girl was killed after a struggle in the basement near the elevator of the building of the National Life Insurance company, where she, Frank and "Jim" Conley worked. Conley was a janitor and implicated Frank.

The Phagan girl's body was found in the early morning of April 27, 1913, in the basement of the factory. Her face was bruised and clinders were found in her cheeks and hair. Evidence of a criminal act was found. Frank was arrested two days later.

The negro, Conley, was the chief witness against Frank. Conley said that he and Frank had a fight in the basement after taking it from the second story.

Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey of Atlanta, who conducted Frank's prosecution, had charge of the case today before the supreme court of Frank's motion. Dorsey presented affidavits from Judge Roan and the trial judge, Judge H. H. Frank's attorneys regarding the motion based on Frank's absence from the court room when the jury was brought in. Submission of the verdict was postponed from Saturday to a Monday, August 25, 1913, because of the high state of public feeling in the case.

CARRANZA TO LOSE MEXICAN POSITION

Washington, Oct. 26.—Official reports received here today indicated that the Mexican national convention at Aguas Calientes would tomorrow depose General Carranza as first chief, and would substitute a provisional president.

DEMAND SURRENDER OF JAPAN WARSHIP

Peikin, China, Oct. 26.—The Chinese foreign minister has demanded the surrender of a Japanese torpedo boat with its crew which entered Chinese waters and substituted the Japanese flag for the Chinese dragon, and attempted to tow away the wrecked German torpedo boat, S-80.

IS GERMANY READY FOR NAVAL BATTLE?

LONDON HEARS REPORT THAT SEA FIGHT MAY COME SOON.

TALK OF SUBMARINES

Rumored That Under Sea Transports Are Being Built to Take Troops to England.

London, Eng., Oct. 26.—England is now speculating on when the Germans, influenced by the presence of rival ships, will attempt to bring units of their own navy into action off the Belgian coast. German submarines have been dodging here and there off the coast during the last week.

So far no successes have been credited them, and it is contended here that the German people must be clamoring for naval retaliation. It would not surprise the British, therefore, if the sea phase of the struggle became more general and more pronounced in the near future, though nothing like a general naval action is expected.

There has been a marked change in the submarine force. The latest official communications were issued. The contending forces were at each other's throats today, principally along along that 38 mile front stretching from Newport to the river Lys. A struggle violent, but perhaps less active is raging thence southward to Arras.

Confirmation from Paris that the German extreme right no longer being manipulated by General Von Kluck, came as a distinct surprise here. It was said last week that he had been superseded by General von Arnim, but the latest version has him remaining on the Aisne, while Grand Duke Albrecht, of Wurttemberg and others are gulling the destinies of the German army.

Of the dispatches unfavorable to the Germans, was one saying that Antwerp was being put in a state of defense, and entrenchments were being prepared to protect the road to Bruges. Among the reports held here to be ridiculous was

The Janesville Gazette
New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.
ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.
BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATUR-DAY EVENING.
MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

WEATHER FORECAST.
Fair tonight and Tuesday. Frost or freezing temperature tonight and cooler in east and south ports. Tuesday warmer north west and Tuesday. Lightening and northerly winds by Tuesday morning.

DAILY EDITION
TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION
BY CARRIER
One Year $5.00
Six Months $2.50
Three Months $1.25
By Mail Cash in Advance
One Year $5.00
Six Months $2.50
Three Months $1.25
RURAL DELIVERY IN ROCK COUNTY
One Year $5.00
Six Months $2.50
Three Months $1.25

The Gazette does not knowingly accept advertising of fraudulent or other advertisements. It is the policy of the Gazette to publish only reliable and reputable advertisements. It is the policy of the Gazette to publish only advertisements that are of benefit to the community. It is the policy of the Gazette to publish only advertisements that are of benefit to the community.

GAZETTE SEPTEMBER CIRCULA-TION.

Sworn circulation statement of the Daily Gazette circulation of September, 1914.

Copies	Copies
1. 7640	7640
2. 7640	7640
3. 7640	7640
4. 7640	7640
5. 7640	7640
6. 7640	7640
7. 7640	7640
8. 7640	7640
9. 7640	7640
10. 7640	7640
11. 7640	7640
12. 7640	7640
13. 7640	7640
14. 7640	7640
15. 7640	7640

Total 198404
Divided by 26 total number of issues, 7631 daily average.
This is a correct report of the circulation of the Janesville Daily Gazette for September, 1914, and sworn to before me by the publisher, H. H. BLISS, Mgr.
My commission expires July 2, 1916.

ELAINE OF BOSCOBEL.

Many voters fail to have a complete understanding of the Blaine of Boscobel and his campaign. The Blaine campaign is an independent candidate really stands for. In the first place Blaine is the man who two years ago organized a Wilson republican organization to help turn the state over to democracy. In the second place he appeared as an independent candidate
this year after the field had been canvassed thoroughly and no one else could be found who would make the race and give the ultra radicals of both the democratic and republican parties an opportunity to use their campaign for the adoption of the ten constitutional amendments that smack so of socialism they fairly swell to high heaven, and also defeat McGovern for the job of United States senator
by electing a democrat.

Blaine and his record is an interesting study. It behooves the voters to see what the man stands for, what he has stood for, for like the leopard he can not change his spots, and as an advocate of high taxes, increased expenses to the state, he had no peer and no equal in the one term he served as state senator from his district. His record is unique and interesting. Read it carefully. It has been compiled from facts and is substantiated by the records of the senate during his four years of public service. If after reading this record the voter still wishes to vote for Blaine against the best interests of his pocketbook, of his better judgment, there is nothing further to be said. Blaine is a dangerous man to put in power. His sole campaign has been to defeat Phillips, to secure the adoption of the ten amendments that are dangerous and aid the campaign of the democratic candidate for the United States senate, Hustling, the "fair-minded" democrat.

Here is his record as compiled by the Home Rule and Taxpayers' League.
Mr. Blaine of Boscobel, was a state senator from his district for one term, 1909 and 1911, and who was not returned to the senate by his constituency after serving one term, was conspicuous whenever present for voting for every bill that appropriated money out of the state treasury.

During his brief senatorial career he voted $9,654,548.23 of the people's money away.
He voted for twenty-four bills to make our election machinery more cumbersome and expensive as it is,
for everything in the primary law including the "Mary Ann."

He voted for 75 bills to create commissions, and to give more power to these already created, thus doubling the number of offices and officers.
He voted for thirty-eight bills interfering with the private affairs of our citizens.

Diligent search has failed to discover any large appropriation bill, any bill creating offices, any bill interfering with private affairs, that this man has ever opposed.

Is it any wonder that the people of his district did not return him to the senate?
It should be no cause for surprise
that the political theorists, fixidists, and experimenters with socialistic tendencies should now seek to elect
Mr. Blaine governor.

With such a record behind him as senator, what could happen to the taxpayers of this state if he were governor? The condition the last few years in this state would be as a millennium compared with the riot of extravagance and expenditures of public monies, creation of commissions and boards, appointments of inspectors and supervisors that would follow.

If university professors and the inspectors have been extravagant in the past, Mr. Blaine's election would make the vast seem like an economical and simple government.
WISCONSIN'S SHARE.
Nine million dollars is the share
Wisconsin will pay in taxes, war taxes
it you please, to the national treasury and yet the United States is at war with no nation. Stop and consider this latest act of the democratic party down at Washington and then figure out that aside from this nine millions

the pocketbooks of the Wisconsin citizens will be plucked for from three to four times that amount and all within the first year of the unnecessary and iniquitous so-called war tax.
On the eve of the state election when a United States senator, a state ticket, headed by a governor, a legislative ticket are to be elected this tax is imposed. Here in Wisconsin rising in its might to protect against the state taxation and without his consent
it is saddled with a government tax of nine millions that the democratic pork barrel can be filled. Consider this, voters, when you go to the polls next week and vote. Stop and look after your own interests and vote the republican ticket from top to bottom.
Vote for McGovern, for Phillips, for the republican nominees for the state legislature and protect your interests and your pocketbook from future invasions by unscrupulous politicians who seek to drain your resources dry that they may feather their own nests.
It is not the democratic leaders alone who are responsible for this condition, but also credit must be given to the independent candidate for governor, Blaine of Boscobel, who organized a Wilson club two years ago and helped, by every known method, to further their chances of making a force of this government of ours, and who now seeks an opportunity to further put his claws into the public treasury, like a vulture, to gain personal ends.

It will be some time before this war tax is removed from the national statutes. The Milwaukee Free Press sums the whole situation up when it says:
"Such taxes have a habit of sticking,
in whole or in part, long after the immediate occasion for them has passed.
There is even greater likelihood of that now because two and one-half years of democratic administration still remain, in which there is little hope that its treasury-depleting policies will be corrected.
"Wisconsin, by the way, is one of the chief victims of the tax because of its extensive brewing industry.
"The democrats of Wisconsin have a good deal to say about the extravagance of republican state administration. They have ramped and roared over the state tax levy of 1913, which amounted to $7,000,000, forgetting to recall that $3,185,000 of that amount went for educational purposes.
"Yet here comes their national administration, pledged to economy and the equal distribution of the tax burden, and imposes a tax of $9,000,000
on this state—a grossly unequal tax in that its heaviest burden falls on the pocket of the average citizen.
"That tax is insidiously and falsely called a 'war' tax by the democratic party. Had there been no European war, the Wilson administration would nevertheless have faced a staggering treasury deficit at the end of the fiscal year.
"Why?
"For three reasons: 1. The tremendous increase of the cost of federal government under Wilson—it was $100,000,000 more the first year of his administration than the last year of Taft. 2. The tremendous decline of revenue from customs duties under the new tariff—it fell off $44,000,000 during the first seven months of this year as compared with the same months of 1913, when the old tariff was still in force. 3. The failure of the democratic income tax to produce the revenue its amateur framers had predicted.
"All this took place before there was even a hint of European war; so while that event has tended to accentuate the desperate condition of the democratic treasury it can not be put forth
as the primary explanation for this gigantic tax levy upon a nation at peace with all the world.
"But assuming for the moment that the war is to blame, even then the imposition of this extraordinary tax upon an already overtaxed and cost-burdened people is wholly unjustifiable.
"In the first place, the huge appropriation bills of the present congress could have been trimmed so as to make up all save a few millions of the estimated deficit.
"Yet the only pruning that was done was accomplished not by the democrats but by the republicans. They fer to the cut of $33,000,000 out of a river and harbor bill, a cut which the president, with all his great influence,
did not deign to further.
"But even had larger economies not been possible, a feasible and legiti-mate course would have been a bond issue, whose cost could have been distributed over a number of years. This would not have been felt by the people, and his final discharge could have awaited a time when the country was once more prosperous.
"President Wilson opposed this on the ground that business should not be deprived of any available capital, a reason as naive as his theory that the prevailing depression, prior to the war, was psychological.
"When the big financial interests of New York are even now making arrangements to establish a credit of $10,000,000 for the French government in that city, President Wilson's policy of economy is pretty well explained. Plenty of money there is here to help a foreign government keep up European slaughter, but none to keep the home government from imposing a heavy war tax in time of peace!
"The voter of independent judgment who looks at these facts squarely in the face, who sees and appreciates the financial mess into which the democratic administration, with its extravagance and economic vagaries, has got the government—this voter will register his vote in protest against every democratic candidate who seeks to make capital on the footless preten-sions of the Wilson administration."

the part of every republican, especially those who are not carried away by bitterness of feeling, to give the whole ticket an honest practical support." Good sound doctrine that and coming from Col. Hicks it should have its weight.
A young woman from New England was accosted the other day by a solicitor for the "Buy-A-Bale-of-Cotton Movement" and asked if she would not wear cotton goods as much as possible to help out the poor cotton growers down south.
"Yes," she replied, "I shall be quite pleased to buy cotton if you will agree to buy Seth Thomas clocks.
You see, I am from Connecticut where these clocks are made, and the same tariff law which has hurt the cotton growers of the South has hurt
the people of Connecticut who work in clock factories and numerous other industries. These poor people by the thousands are out of employment, but who had heard of anyone urging the public to buy more clocks?"
The cotton solicitor hadn't thought of that.
It begins to look as though the war would continue until the money is exhausted, and forces so deflected as to make continuance impossible.
Human life was near more lightly guarded than it is today, and the phycal of it is that widowhood and orphanage will pay the penalty for years to come, the loss of property, and the destruction of industry are questions for after thought, yet so significant that bankruptcy and poverty already abound. The next half century will fail to restore the old world to normal conditions.

With a nine million dollar war tax saddled on to the state of Wisconsin
as a campaign document, enthusiasm for the democratic party will not be very prominent. Four years is about all the country can stand of this kind of insolvency.
"Agricultural wealth is the foundation of the nation's prosperity. Business can not long be depressed with agricultural interests so immensely prosperous as they are this time."
This is the statement of the leaders of Iowa and they further state that their state and those adjoining, which includes Wisconsin, produce 27 per cent of the agricultural wealth of the nation. Think of that.

Really the claims of the press bureaus of the various governments is something depressing to read. Careful estimates of the dead thus far reported would have wiped out all the fighting armies and yet the battles go on. This war is just what Sherman said it was.

Politics makes strange bedfellows.
Colonel Roosevelt and Senator La Follette—whose love for each other was evidenced in the campaign of 1912—are now scrambling for a seat on the Blaine bandwagon. Two great men with one single thought, the concern of the people, have been duped
and the senator is playing his last card.
Ambition plays funny tricks with all kinds of people.

On The Spur of The Moment

The Old Mare.
These here new fangled auto cars are handy, it must be confessed.
But when it comes to pleasure, I enjoy the old bay mare the best.
When I go out joy ridin' with my best gal sittin' by my side, I know I will get the back hum, for my old mare is true and tried.
She never makes me walk nine miles to find a country blacksmith shop.
Where I can get her tires repaired,
I'm not afraid of any cop.
She's got it forty ways upon a short-
in, sneezin' gas machine.
And she's the best old sparkin' plug
that me and my gal's ever seen.

Her carburetor works fast rate, her coolin' system is immense,
And you can run her all day long and
at a very slight expense.
She's never laid up for repairs, she doesn't have to wear no tag,
She never plunges in the ditch, for she's got a very solid axle.
The speed laws she don't violate and I have never yet got pinched.
For safe and sane enjoyment, I have surely got the method clinched.
No folks that walk are cousin mine,
I don't scare 'em out of their boots.
By runnin' up behind 'em quick and lettin' 'em out of a lot of toots.

RUSSIAN ADMIRAL SHOT.

Other News of Interest From the East of War in Europe.
Petrograd, Oct. 24.—An admiral Hitemupski was shot last night.
Advices are to the effect that he remained in this condition until he was taken to a Turkish bath.
Russian forces in Galicia killed
93,452 Austrians yesterday. Inasmuch as this is more soldiers than there are in the whole Austrian army, it is looked upon as a good day's work.
Three or four more battles of this kind and the Austrian army will be seriously crippled.
A German who was caught smoking a Russian cigar was court-martialled by the German general yesterday and shot at sunrise.
The Russian forces are making great gains in the direction of being driven steadily back toward Salt Petersburg (now Petrograd).

The czar has conferred the order of the "Dynamite" on Ignatz vitchanofski. Ignatz was captured and while the German sergeant was taking his name and writing it down 247 other Russians made their escape.
Paris, Oct. 24.—The French forces
at Noye captured an important line yesterday. It contained five shirts and three suits of E. V. D's.
The French spirits are excellent.
Nine cases of Hennessy Three Star were taken yesterday.
So far as the war proper is concerned, the French have taken Berlin and the Kaiser has fled to Heligoland.
This news is cheerful although not exactly authentic.
Then French are very anxious to take Cologne, as they feel that they will then be in better odor.

Signs of the Times.
Pennsylvania stock raiser is shipping little pigs by parcel post where are some big pigs in Pennsylvania politics who ride in the parlor cars.
Now that the czar admits a few defeats occasionally, the public will give a little more confidence in the news from Petrograd.
Looks as though it will take some broncho buster to remain on the throne of Albania any length of time.
After the war is over the Europeans will have a lot of genuine relics to sell to the American tourist.

If you are looking for help of any kind, read the Want Ads.

OUR National Opportunity
LESSONS for AMERICA from the WAR.

OUR CHIEF DUTY TO OURSELVES.
By Robert H. Benedict.
We are a resourceful people. The necessity of adjusting ourselves to the strain imposed upon us by the European war finds us strong and willing
for the task.
The first requirement laid upon us
is this: KEEP BUSINESS MOVING
AS USUAL!
This is no time to slacken our energies, to mark time, to hesitate.
There is no reason why we should
not give our merchants as great a volume of trade this fall as we ever have.
Perhaps we can do better and move
the record up a notch.
You know what that means. Normal
consumption of manufactured products
means healthy conditions for the manufacturing industries, with benefits
handed along an endless chain to the workers and to the farmers who produce food for the workers.
Buy what you need and all you need
for the fall and winter!
There is every justification for pursuing a normal course. Our farmers have just harvested great crops, which

are now beginning to move abroad.
There is no money stringency, as $326,000,000 of emergency currency
has been put into circulation. The total volume is now $3,894,700,000,
which is $37.15 per capita, or $2.35 per capita more than a year ago, when the
average per person was $34.80.
Ours is the richest nation in the world, the most resourceful, and the possessor of the greatest money supply.
We regret the war, but it finds us
strong and ready, with bountiful crops,
a splendid new currency system, plenty
of money, and a fine brand of commercial courage.
To the consumers we say: BUY
WHAT YOU NEED.
To the merchants: ADVERTISE
FOR BUYERS.
And to the manufacturers: HUSTLE
FOR TRADE. The decree in imports from warring countries gives
you a great opportunity.

There is every justification for pur-

HE KNEW
She—Do you know why we women
want to vote?
It will give you all a legitimate excuse for new clothes
every time you go to the polls!

MANAGER OF MIDDLETON
CONCERN MISSING A WEEK
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—Search is being made for Thomas D. Christ,
general factory manager of the Vale-
cia Condensed Milk company at Middleton, near here who has not been heard from since he sent a telegram
to the Madison office from Chicago a week ago Saturday. He came here
recently from his home at Holland
Patent, N. Y. He is about 45 or 50 years old and a member of the Masonic order.

WHAT CATARRH IS
It has been said that every third person
is troubled with catarrh in some form.
Science has shown that nasal catarrh
indicates a weakened condition of the body; that the secretion of the mucous membranes are quickly affected, and local treatments in the form of snuffs and
vapors do little, if any good.
To correct catarrh you should treat its
cause by enriching your blood with the
oil-fish in Scott's Emulsion which is a
medicinal food and a building-tonic, free
from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.
14-73 Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

PRINCESS THEATRE
SPECIAL TONIGHT
A two-part feature
The Final Verdict
An absorbing story of the crude justice of the early
west.
All at Sea
One of Mack Sennett's big
Keystone comedies.
Two Girls of
The Hills
A Reliance drama
COMING TOMORROW.
Broken Nose Bailey
ADMISSION 10c

NURSE WANTS
Guaranteed for 2 years; price $2
Recent scientific medical discovery has that bathing the inside of the body is as necessary
for health as bathing the outside. The Fountain Syringe
makes this possible.
We have all styles and qualities from $1 to $2.50.

Smith's Pharmacy
The Rexall Store
Kodaks and Kodak Supplies
41 West Milwaukee St.

OUR National Opportunity
LESSONS for AMERICA from the WAR.

OUR CHIEF DUTY TO OURSELVES.
By Robert H. Benedict.
We are a resourceful people. The
necessity of adjusting ourselves to the
strain imposed upon us by the European war finds us strong and willing
for the task.
The first requirement laid upon us
is this: KEEP BUSINESS MOVING
AS USUAL!
This is no time to slacken our energies, to mark time, to hesitate.
There is no reason why we should
not give our merchants as great a volume of trade this fall as we ever have.
Perhaps we can do better and move
the record up a notch.
You know what that means. Normal
consumption of manufactured products
means healthy conditions for the manufacturing industries, with benefits
handed along an endless chain to the
workers and to the farmers who produce food for the workers.
Buy what you need and all you need
for the fall and winter!
There is every justification for pur-

suing a normal course. Our farmers
have just harvested great crops, which
are now beginning to move abroad.
There is no money stringency, as $326,000,000 of emergency currency
has been put into circulation. The
total volume is now $3,894,700,000,
which is $37.15 per capita, or $2.35 per
capita more than a year ago, when the
average per person was $34.80.
Ours is the richest nation in the
world, the most resourceful, and the
possessor of the greatest money supply.
We regret the war, but it finds us
strong and ready, with bountiful crops,
a splendid new currency system, plenty
of money, and a fine brand of commercial courage.
To the consumers we say: BUY
WHAT YOU NEED.
To the merchants: ADVERTISE
FOR BUYERS.
And to the manufacturers: HUSTLE
FOR TRADE. The decree in imports from warring countries gives
you a great opportunity.

There is every justification for pur-

HE KNEW
She—Do you know why we women
want to vote?
It will give you all a legitimate excuse for new clothes
every time you go to the polls!

MANAGER OF MIDDLETON
CONCERN MISSING A WEEK
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—Search is
being made for Thomas D. Christ,
general factory manager of the Vale-
cia Condensed Milk company at Mid-
dleton, near here who has not been
heard from since he sent a telegram
to the Madison office from Chicago a week ago Saturday. He came here
recently from his home at Holland
Patent, N. Y. He is about 45 or 50
years old and a member of the Masonic order.

WHAT CATARRH IS
It has been said that every third person
is troubled with catarrh in some form.
Science has shown that nasal catarrh
indicates a weakened condition of
the body; that the secretion of the mucous membranes are quickly affected, and local
treatments in the form of snuffs and
vapors do little, if any good.
To correct catarrh you should treat its
cause by enriching your blood with the
oil-fish in Scott's Emulsion which is a
medicinal food and a building-tonic, free
from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.
14-73 Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

PRINCESS
THEATRE
SPECIAL TONIGHT
A two-part feature
The Final Verdict
An absorbing story of the crude justice of the early
west.
All at Sea
One of Mack Sennett's big
Keystone comedies.
Two Girls of
The Hills
A Reliance drama
COMING TOMORROW.
Broken Nose Bailey
ADMISSION 10c

NURSE WANTS
Guaranteed for 2 years; price $2
Recent scientific medical discovery has that bathing the in-
side of the body is as necessary
for health as bathing the out-
side. The Fountain Syringe
makes this possible.
We have all styles and qualities from $1 to $2.50.

Smith's Pharmacy
The Rexall Store
Kodaks and Kodak Supplies
41 West Milwaukee St.

OUR National Opportunity
LESSONS for AMERICA from the WAR.

OUR CHIEF DUTY TO OURSELVES.
By Robert H. Benedict.
We are a resourceful people. The
necessity of adjusting ourselves to the
strain imposed upon us by the European war finds us strong and willing
for the task.
The first requirement laid upon us
is this: KEEP BUSINESS MOVING
AS USUAL!
This is no time to slacken our energies, to mark time, to hesitate.
There is no reason why we should
not give our merchants as great a volume of trade this fall as we ever have.
Perhaps we can do better and move
the record up a notch.
You know what that means. Normal
consumption of manufactured products
means healthy conditions for the manufacturing industries, with benefits
handed along an endless chain to the
workers and to the farmers who produce food for the workers.
Buy what you need and all you need
for the fall and winter!
There is every justification for pur-

suing a normal course. Our farmers
have just harvested great crops, which
are now beginning to move abroad.
There is no money stringency, as $326,000,000 of emergency currency
has been put into circulation. The
total volume is now $3,894,700,000,
which is $37.15 per capita, or $2.35 per
capita more than a year ago, when the
average per person was $34.80.
Ours is the richest nation in the
world, the most resourceful, and the
possessor of the greatest money supply.
We regret the war, but it finds us
strong and ready, with bountiful crops,
a splendid new currency system, plenty
of money, and a fine brand of commercial courage.
To the consumers we say: BUY
WHAT YOU NEED.
To the merchants: ADVERTISE
FOR BUYERS.
And to the manufacturers: HUSTLE
FOR TRADE. The decree in imports from warring countries gives
you a great opportunity.

There is every justification for pur-

HE KNEW
She—Do you know why we women
want to vote?
It will give you all a
legitimate excuse for new clothes
every time you go to the polls!

MANAGER OF MIDDLETON
CONCERN MISSING A WEEK
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—Search is
being made for Thomas D. Christ,
general factory manager of the Vale-
cia Condensed Milk company at Mid-
dleton, near here who has not been
heard from since he sent a telegram
to the Madison office from Chicago a week ago Saturday. He came here
recently from his home at Holland
Patent, N. Y. He is about 45 or 50
years old and a member of the Masonic order.

WHAT CATARRH IS
It has been said that every third person
is troubled with catarrh in some form.
Science has shown that nasal catarrh
indicates a weakened condition of
the body; that the secretion of the mucous membranes are quickly affected, and local
treatments in the form of snuffs and
vapors do little, if any good.
To correct catarrh you should treat its
cause by enriching your blood with the
oil-fish in Scott's Emulsion which is a
medicinal food and a building-tonic, free
from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.
14-73 Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

PRINCESS
THEATRE
SPECIAL TONIGHT
A two-part feature
The Final Verdict
An absorbing story of the crude justice of the early
west.
All at Sea
One of Mack Sennett's big
Keystone comedies.
Two Girls of
The Hills
A Reliance drama
COMING TOMORROW.
Broken Nose Bailey
ADMISSION 10c

NURSE WANTS
Guaranteed for 2 years; price $2
Recent scientific medical discovery has that bathing the in-
side of the body is as necessary
for health as bathing the out-
side. The Fountain Syringe
makes this possible.
We have all styles and qualities from $1 to $2.50.

Smith's Pharmacy
The Rexall Store
Kodaks and Kodak Supplies
41 West Milwaukee St.

APOLLO
Home of the PARAMOUNT PROGRAM

TONIGHT
Essanay presents
FRANCIS X BUSHMAN
in that noted play
ONE WONDER-FUL NIGHT
ALL SEATS 10c.

TUESDAY
VITAGRAPH'S FAVORITE
MAURICE COSTELLO
IN THE BIG SUCCESS
MR. BARNES OF NEW YORK
SIX PARTS.
Matinee, 10c; Evening, 15c.
Children, 10c.

WEDNESDAY
The 5-part Lubin Feature.
THE HOUSE
NEXT DOOR
By author of
"PEG OF MY HEART"
Matinee, 10c; Evening, 15c.
Children, 10c.

HE KNEW
She—Do you know why we women
want to vote?
It will give you all a
legitimate excuse for new clothes
every time you go to the polls!

MANAGER OF MIDDLETON
CONCERN MISSING A WEEK
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—Search is
being made for Thomas D. Christ,
general factory manager of the Vale-
cia Condensed Milk company at Mid-
dleton, near here who has not been
heard from since he sent a telegram
to the Madison office from Chicago a week ago Saturday. He came here
recently from his home at Holland
Patent, N. Y. He is about 45 or 50
years old and a member of the Masonic order.

WHAT CATARRH IS
It has been said that every third person
is troubled with catarrh in some form.
Science has shown that nasal catarrh
indicates a weakened condition of
the body; that the secretion of the mucous membranes are quickly affected, and local
treatments in the form of snuffs and
vapors do little, if any good.
To correct catarrh you should treat its
cause by enriching your blood with the
oil-fish in Scott's Emulsion which is a
medicinal food and a building-tonic, free
from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.
14-73 Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

PRINCESS
THEATRE
SPECIAL TONIGHT
A two-part feature
The Final Verdict
An absorbing story of the crude justice of the early
west.
All at Sea
One of Mack Sennett's big
Keystone comedies.
Two Girls of
The Hills
A Reliance drama
COMING TOMORROW.
Broken Nose Bailey
ADMISSION 10c

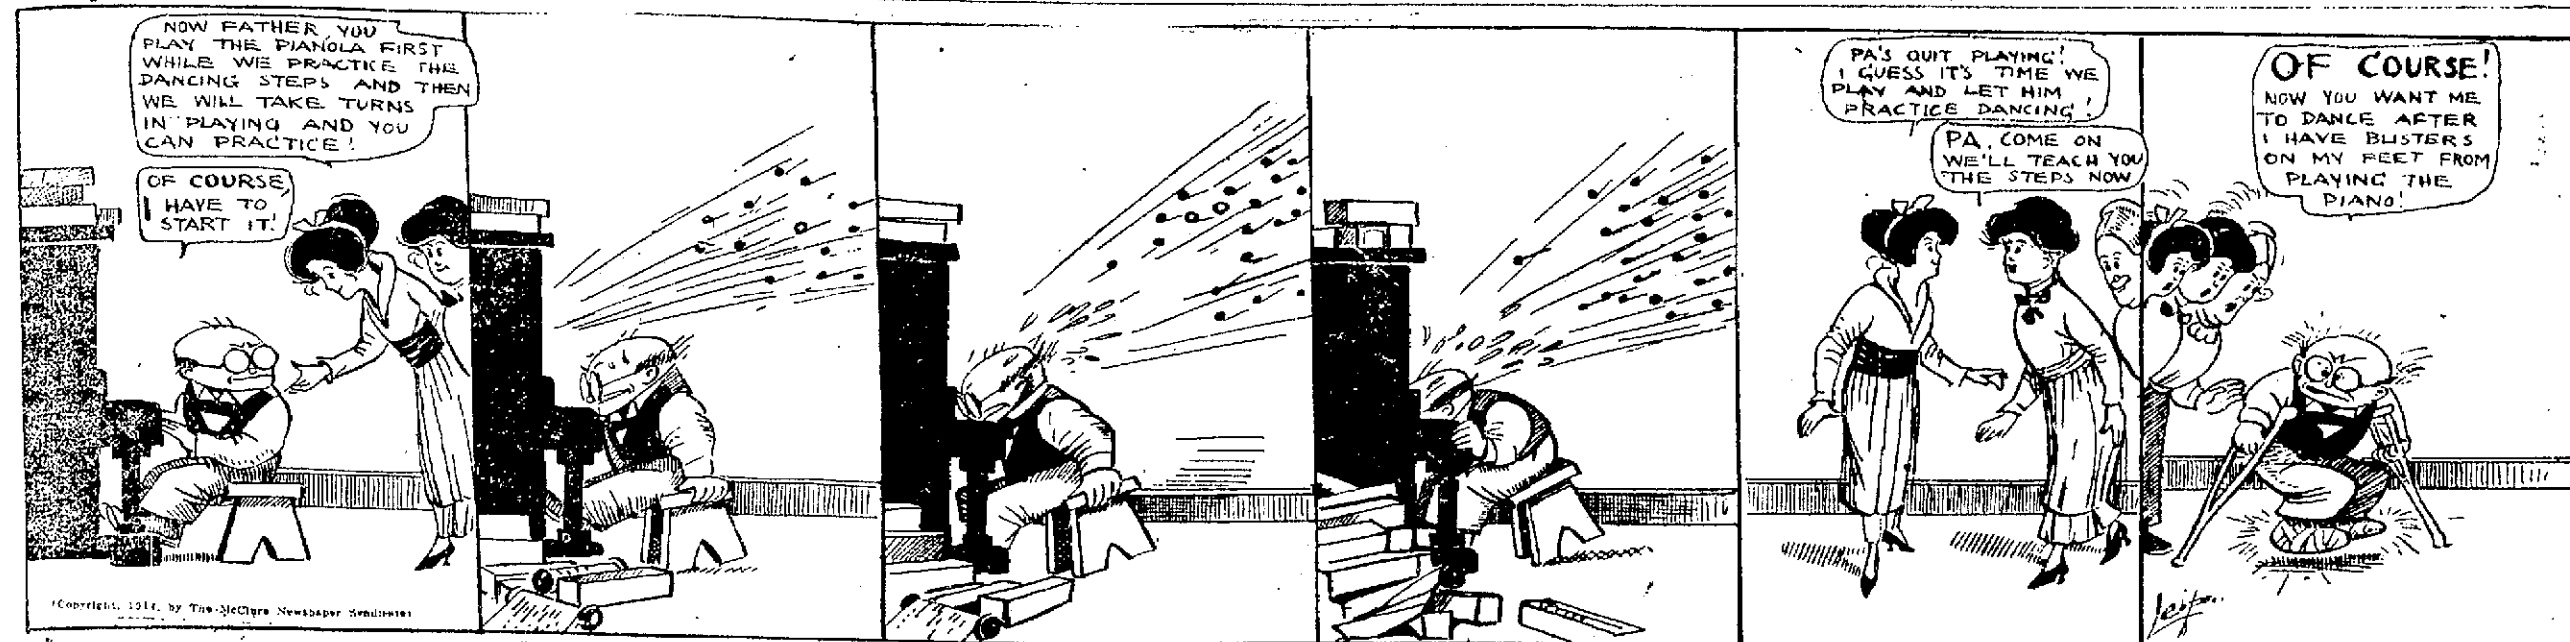

NURSE WANTS
Guaranteed for 2 years; price $2
Recent scientific medical discovery has that bathing the in-
side of the body is as necessary
for health as bathing the out-
side. The Fountain Syringe
makes this possible.
We have all styles and qualities from $1 to $2.50.

Smith's Pharmacy
The Rexall Store
Kodaks and Kodak Supplies
41 West Milwaukee St.

Rehberg's

If this "snap" in the air has put vim into you and turned your thoughts to fall clothes, turn your steps here. The biggest, finest stock of suits and overcoats in this vicinity, the greatest values, too. Prices $10 to $25. Splendid showings at $17, suit or overcoat.

Amos Rehberg Co.
J

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—They Should Have Thought of Father a Trifle Sooner—

BY F. LEIPZIGER

Pure Food Label.

Another perfectly good reason for "pure shoes" legislation is that it is so disappointing to an arctic explorer to bite into a boot which he bought at cowhide prices and find that it is imitation leather.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

In our big mills we have worked out the most scientific method of producing the longest-lived roofing possible to make. Then next time you buy roofing, investigate the merits of

Certain-teed ROOFING

Quality Cert-ified Durability Guaranteed—guaranteed to last 5 years for 1-ply, 10 years for 2-ply and 15 years for 3-ply. This is not a talk guarantee, but real one—backed up by the biggest roofing mills in the world.

HONESTY IN ADVERTISING.

Recent Policy the Only Successful Plan.

Business that would attain leadership in a competitive field must advertise. A big man's business everywhere and especially in the advertising business, is to tell every man, woman and child that they sell each consumer infrequently, cannot afford the expense of having men everywhere on the ground to solicit orders at just the right moment. This cost a demand for the goods and big selling or jobbing concerns gladly do the rest of the work of delivering the goods and collecting for them. This makes the best and most economical way to do business.

Advertising effects a saving by economically paying the way for the sales manager to make sales quickly and easily by correspondence or the call of his salesman. It picks out the real customers who come and leaves out those who are not interested.

There are honest and dishonest kinds of advertising. Facts clearly and honestly stated are the best selling arguments in the world and make a healthy growth in business. Once a certain rate of progression has been attained on an honest basis, the business will generate its own power and ascend the hill of success.

On the other hand, the goods are a misrepresentation through dishonest advertising. The confidence of the people in that house will be shaken and ruin will come from the expense of the advertising without the necessary volume of business from happy customers to pay for it. Such experiences affect the confidence of everyone in advertising in general, and injure to a certain extent, the honest advertiser.

Advertising to be a success, must be honest not only in big things, but in little things as well. The people may be fooled part of the time, but the time soon comes when a dishonest advertiser finds out he can't fool the people very long. This accounts for most failures in advertising.

There's a Certain-teed dealer in your locality. He will be pleased to give you information about our extensive line of goods and will quote you reasonable prices on all of them. Be sure the goods are made and guaranteed by us.

General Roofing Mfg. Company

World's largest manufacturer of Roofing and Building Materials American Trust Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
Telephone Standish 1906.

New York City Boston Chicago Pittsburgh
Philadelphia Atlanta Cleveland Detroit
St. Louis Cincinnati Kansas City Minneapolis
San Francisco Seattle London Hamburg Sydney

CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF CERTAIN-TEED ROOFING AT ALL TIMES AND WILL GLADLY FURNISH ESTIMATES ON ROOFS OF ALL SIZES.

TALK TO LOWELL

Certain-teed Roofing

Sold in Jamesville By

Bullington & Nixon
QUICK DELIVERIES Lumber Co. BOTH PHONES 117

The Last Shot

By FREDERICK PALMER

(Copyright, 1914, by Charles Scribner's Sons)

"Heaven! I hope they do it!"

"The flag's down!"

"Another man has it—it's up!"

"Now—now—splendid! They're in!"

"So they are! And the flag, too!"

"Yes, what's left are in!"

"And Lanstron was there—in that!"

"What if—"

"Yes, the chief of staff, the head of the army, in an affair like that!"

"The mind of the army—the mind that was to direct our advance!"

"When all the honors of the world are his!"

Their words were acid-tipped needles knitting back and forth through Marta's brain. Was Lanny one of those black specks that peppered the slope? Was he? Was he?

"Telephone and—and see if Lanny is—is killed!" she begged.

"I'll go—I'll go out there where he is!" she said incoherently, still looking toward the knoll with glazed eyes. She thought she was walking fast as she started for the garden gate, but really she was going slowly, stumbly.

"I think you had better stop her if you can," said the general to his aide.

The aide overtook her at the gate.

"We shall know about his excellency before you can find out for yourself," he said; and, young himself, he could put the sympathy of youth with romance into his tone. "You might miss the road, even miss him, when he was without a scratch, and be for hours in ignorance," he explained. "In a few minutes we ought to have word."

Marta sank down weakly on the tongue of a wagon, overturned against the garden wall in the melee of the retreat, and leaned her shoulder on the wheel for support.

"If the women of the Grays waited four weeks," she said with an effort at stoicism, "then I ought to be able to wait a few minutes."

"Depend on me. I'll bring news as soon as there is any," the aide concluded, and, seeing that she wished to be alone, he left her.

For the first time she had real oblivion from the memory of her deceit.

CHAPTER XXII.

The Last Shot.

"Miss Galloway!"

Blinking as she came out of the darkness into the bright light, with a look of her dew-sprinkled dark hair free and brushing her flushed cheek, Marta saw the division chiefs of the Browns, after their start when Lanstron spoke her name, all stand at the salute, looking at her rather than at him. The reality in the flesh of the woman who had been a comrade in service, sacrificing her sensibilities for their cause, appealed to them as a true likeness of their conceptions of her. In their eyes she might read the finest thing that can pass from man's to woman's or from man's to man's. These were the strong men of her people who had driven the burglar from her house with the sword of justice. Their tribute had the steadfast loyalty of soldiers who were craving to do anything in the world that she might ask, whether to go on their knees to her or to kill dragons for her.

"I may come in?" she asked.

"Who if not you is entitled to the privilege of the staff council?" exclaimed the vice-chief.

The others did not propose to let him do all the honors. Each murmured words of welcome on his own account.

"We are here, thanks to you!"

"And, thanks to you, our flag will float over the Gray range!"

She must be tired, was their next thought. Four or five of them hurried to place a chair for her, the vice-chief winning over his rivals, more through the exercise of the rights of rank than by any superior alacrity.

"You are appointed actual chief of staff and a field marshal!" said the vice-chief to Lanstron. "The premier says that every honor the nation can bestow is yours. The capital is mad. The crowds are crying: 'On to the Gray capital! Tomorrow is to be a public holiday and they are calling it Lanstron Day. The thing was so sudden that the speculators who depressed our securities in the world's markets have got their due—ruin! And we ought to get an indemnity that will pay the cost of the war.'"

Seated at one side, Marta could watch all that passed, herself unobscured. She noted a touch of color come to Lanstron's cheeks as he made a little shrug of protest.

Then she saw their faces grow businesslike and keen, as they gathered around the table, with Lanstron at the head. They were oblivious of her presence, immersed in a man's world of war.

"Your orders were obeyed. We have not passed a single white post yet!" said the vice-chief impatiently.

"As the Grays never expected to take the defensive, their fortresses are inferior. Every hour we wait means more time for them to fortify, more time to recover from their demoralization. Our dirigibles having command of the air—we had a wireless from one reporting all clear half-way to the Gray capital—why, we shall know their concentrations while they are ignorant of ours. It's the nation's great opportunity to gain enough provinces to even the balance of population with the Grays. With the unrelenting offensive, blow on blow, using the spirit of our men to drive in mass attacks at the right points, the Gray range is ours!"

Marta scanned the faces of the staff for some sign of dissent only to find nothing but the ardor of victory calling for more victory, which reflected the feeling of the couraging crowd in the capital. Though Lanny wished to stop the war, he was only a chip on the crest of a wave. Public opinion, which had made him an idol, would discard him as soon as he ceased to be a hero in the likeness of its desires. She saw him aloof as the others, in preoccupation, bent over the map outlining the plan of attack that they had worked out while awaiting their chief's return from the charge. He was taking a paper from his pocket and looking from one to another of his colleagues studiously; and she was conscious of that determination in his smile which she had first seen when he rose from the wreck of his plane.

"This is from Partow: a message for you and the nation!" he announced, as he spread a few thin, typewritten pages out on the table. "I was under promise never to reveal its contents unless our army drove the Grays back across the frontier. The original is in the staff vaults. I have carried this copy with me."

At the mention in an arresting tone of that name of the dead chief, to which the day's events had given the prestige of one of the heroes of old, there was grave attention.

"I think we have practically agreed that the two individuals who were invaluable to our cause were Partow and Miss Galloway," Lanstron remarked tentatively. He waited for a reply. It was apparent that he was laying a foundation before he went any further.

"Certainly!" said the vice-chief.

"And you!" put in another officer, which brought a chorus of assent.

"No, not I—only these two!" Lanstron replied. "Or, I, too, if you prefer. It little matters. The thing is that I am under a promise to both, which I shall respect. He organized and labored for the same purpose that she played the spy. When we sent the troops forward in a counter-attack and pursuit to clear our soil of the Grays; when I stopped them at the frontier—both were according to Partow's plan. He had a plan and a dream, this wonderful old man who made us all seem primary pupils in the art of war."

Could it be that terrible Partow, a stroke of whose pencil had made the Galloway house an inferno? Marta wondered as Lanstron read his message—the message out of the real heart of the man, throbbing with the power of his great brain. His plan was to hold the Grays to stalemate; to force them to desist after they had battered their battalions to pieces against the Brown fortifications. His dream was the thing that had happened—that an opportunity would come to pursue a broken machine in a bold stroke of the offensive.

"I would want to be a hero of our people for only one aim, to be able to stop our army at the frontier," he had written. "Then they might drive me forth heaped with obloquy, if they chose. I should like to see the Grays demoralized, beaten, ready to sue for peace, the better to prove my point."

staff and a field marshal!" said the vice-chief to Lanstron. "The premier says that every honor the nation can bestow is yours. The capital is mad. The crowds are crying: 'On to the Gray capital! Tomorrow is to be a public holiday and they are calling it Lanstron Day. The thing was so sudden that the speculators who depressed our securities in the world's markets have got their due—ruin! And we ought to get an indemnity that will pay the cost of the war.'"

Seated at one side, Marta could watch all that passed, herself unobscured. She noted a touch of color come to Lanstron's cheeks as he made a little shrug of protest.

Then she saw their faces grow businesslike and keen, as they gathered around the table, with Lanstron at the head. They were oblivious of her presence, immersed in a man's world of war.

"Your orders were obeyed. We have not passed a single white post yet!" said the vice-chief impatiently.

"As the Grays never expected to take the defensive, their fortresses are inferior. Every hour we wait means more time for them to fortify, more time to recover from their demoralization. Our dirigibles having command of the air—we had a wireless from one reporting all clear half-way to the Gray capital—why, we shall know their concentrations while they are ignorant of ours. It's the nation's great opportunity to gain enough provinces to even the balance of population with the Grays. With the unrelenting offensive, blow on blow, using the spirit of our men to drive in mass attacks at the right points, the Gray range is ours!"

Marta scanned the faces of the staff for some sign of dissent only to find nothing but the ardor of victory calling for more victory, which reflected the feeling of the couraging crowd in the capital. Though Lanny wished to stop the war, he was only a chip on the crest of a wave. Public opinion, which had made him an idol, would discard him as soon as he ceased to be a hero in the likeness of its desires. She saw him aloof as the others, in preoccupation, bent over the map outlining the plan of attack that they had worked out while awaiting their chief's return from the charge. He was taking a paper from his pocket and looking from one to another of his colleagues studiously; and she was conscious of that determination in his smile which she had first seen when he rose from the wreck of his plane.

"This is from Partow: a message for you and the nation!" he announced, as he spread a few thin, typewritten pages out on the table. "I was under promise never to reveal its contents unless our army drove the Grays back across the frontier. The original is in the staff vaults. I have carried this copy with me."

At the mention in an arresting tone of that name of the dead chief, to which the day's events had given the prestige of one of the heroes of old, there was grave attention.

"I think we have practically agreed that the two individuals who were invaluable to our cause were Partow and Miss Galloway," Lanstron remarked tentatively. He waited for a reply. It was apparent that he was laying a foundation before he went any further.

"Certainly!" said the vice-chief.

"And you!" put in another officer, which brought a chorus of assent.

"No, not I—only these two!" Lanstron replied. "Or, I, too, if you prefer. It little matters. The thing is that I am under a promise to both, which I shall respect. He organized and labored for the same purpose that she played the spy. When we sent the troops forward in a counter-attack and pursuit to clear our soil of the Grays; when I stopped them at the frontier—both were according to Partow's plan. He had a plan and a dream, this wonderful old man who made us all seem primary pupils in the art of war."

Could it be that terrible Partow, a stroke of whose pencil had made the Galloway house an inferno? Marta wondered as Lanstron read his message—the message out of the real heart of the man, throbbing with the power of his great brain. His plan was to hold the Grays to stalemate; to force them to desist after they had battered their battalions to pieces against the Brown fortifications. His dream was the thing that had happened—that an opportunity would come to pursue a broken machine in a bold stroke of the offensive.

"I would want to be a hero of our people for only one aim, to be able to stop our army at the frontier," he had written. "Then they might drive me forth heaped with obloquy, if they chose. I should like to see the Grays demoralized, beaten, ready to sue for peace, the better to prove my point."

staff and a field marshal!" said the vice-chief to Lanstron. "The premier says that every honor the nation can bestow is yours. The capital is mad. The crowds are crying: 'On to the Gray capital! Tomorrow is to be a public holiday and they are calling it Lanstron Day. The thing was so sudden that the speculators who depressed our securities in the world's markets have got their due—ruin! And we ought to get an indemnity that will pay the cost of the war.'"

Seated at one side, Marta could watch all that passed, herself unobscured. She noted a touch of color come to Lanstron's cheeks as he made a little shrug of protest.

Then she saw their faces grow businesslike and keen, as they gathered around the table, with Lanstron at the head. They were oblivious of her presence, immersed in a man's world of war.

"Your orders were obeyed. We have not passed a single white post yet!" said the vice-chief impatiently.

"As the Grays never expected to take the defensive, their fortresses are inferior. Every hour we wait means more time for them to fortify, more time to recover from their demoralization. Our dirigibles having command of the air—we had a wireless from one reporting all clear half-way to the Gray capital—why, we shall know their concentrations while they are ignorant of ours. It's the nation's great opportunity to gain enough provinces to even the balance of population with the Grays. With the unrelenting offensive, blow on blow, using the spirit of our men to drive in mass attacks at the right points, the Gray range is ours!"

Marta scanned the faces of the staff for some sign of dissent only to find nothing but the ardor of victory calling for more victory, which reflected the feeling of the couraging crowd in the capital. Though Lanny wished to stop the war, he was only a chip on the crest of a wave. Public opinion, which had made him an idol, would discard him as soon as he ceased to be a hero in the likeness of its desires. She saw him aloof as the others, in preoccupation, bent over the map outlining the plan of attack that they had worked out while awaiting their chief's return from the charge. He was taking a paper from his pocket and looking from one to another of his colleagues studiously; and she was conscious of that determination in his smile which she had first seen when he rose from the wreck of his plane.

"This is from Partow: a message for you and the nation!" he announced, as he spread a few thin, typewritten pages out on the table. "I was under promise never to reveal its contents unless our army drove the Grays back across the frontier. The original is in the staff vaults. I have carried this copy with me."

At the mention in an arresting tone of that name of the dead chief, to which the day's events had given the prestige of one of the heroes of old, there was grave attention.

"I think we have practically agreed that the two individuals who were invaluable to our cause were Partow and Miss Galloway," Lanstron remarked tentatively. He waited for a reply. It was apparent that he was laying a foundation before he went any further.

"Certainly!" said the vice-chief.

"And you!" put in another officer, which brought a chorus of assent.

"No, not I—only these two!" Lanstron replied. "Or, I, too, if you prefer. It little matters. The thing is that I am under a promise to both, which I shall respect. He organized and labored for the same purpose that she played the spy. When we sent the troops forward in a counter-attack and pursuit to clear our soil of the Grays; when I stopped them at the frontier—both were according to Partow's plan. He had a plan and a dream, this wonderful old man who made us all seem primary pupils in the art of war."

Could it be that terrible Partow, a stroke of whose pencil had made the Galloway house an inferno? Marta wondered as Lanstron read his message—the message out of the real heart of the man, throbbing with the power of his great brain. His plan was to hold the Grays to stalemate; to force them to desist after they had battered their battalions to pieces against the Brown fortifications. His dream was the thing that had happened—that an opportunity would come to pursue a broken machine in a bold stroke of the offensive.

"I would want to be a hero of our people for only one aim, to be able to stop our army at the frontier," he had written. "Then they might drive me forth heaped with obloquy, if they chose. I should like to see the Grays demoralized, beaten, ready to sue for peace, the better to prove my point."

staff and a field marshal!" said the vice-chief to Lanstron. "The premier says that every honor the nation can bestow is yours. The capital is mad. The crowds are crying: 'On to the Gray capital! Tomorrow is to be a public holiday and they are calling it Lanstron Day. The thing was so sudden that the speculators who depressed our securities in the world's markets have got their due—ruin! And we ought to get an indemnity that will pay the cost of the war.'"

Seated at one side, Marta could watch all that passed, herself unobscured. She noted a touch of color come to Lanstron's cheeks as he made a little shrug of protest.

Then she saw their faces grow businesslike and keen, as they gathered around the table, with Lanstron at the head. They were oblivious of her presence, immersed in a man's world of war.

"Your orders were obeyed. We have not passed a single white post yet!" said the vice-chief impatiently.

"As the Grays never expected to take the defensive, their fortresses are inferior. Every hour we wait means more time for them to fortify, more time to recover from their demoralization. Our dirigibles having command of the air—we had a wireless from one reporting all clear half-way to the Gray capital—why, we shall know their concentrations while they are ignorant of ours. It's the nation's great opportunity to gain enough provinces to even the balance of population with the Grays. With the unrelenting offensive, blow on blow, using the spirit of our men to drive in mass attacks at the right points, the Gray range is ours!"

Marta scanned the faces of the staff for some sign of dissent only to find nothing but the ardor of victory calling for more victory, which reflected the feeling of the couraging crowd in the capital. Though Lanny wished to stop the war, he was only a chip on the crest of a wave. Public opinion, which had made him an idol, would discard him as soon as he ceased to be a hero in the likeness of its desires. She saw him aloof as the others, in preoccupation, bent over the map outlining the plan of attack that they had worked out while awaiting their chief's return from the charge. He was taking a paper from his pocket and looking from one to another of his colleagues studiously; and she was conscious of that determination in his smile which she had first seen when he rose from the wreck of his plane.

"This is from Partow: a message for you and the nation!" he announced, as he spread a few thin, typewritten pages out on the table. "I was under promise never to reveal its contents unless our army drove the Grays back across the frontier. The original is in the staff vaults. I have carried this copy with me."

At the mention in an arresting tone of that name of the dead chief, to which the day's events had given the prestige of one of the heroes of old, there was grave attention.

"I think we have practically agreed that the two individuals who were invaluable to our cause were Partow and Miss Galloway," Lanstron remarked tentatively. He waited for a reply. It was apparent that he was laying a foundation before he went any further.

"Certainly!" said the vice-chief.

"And you!" put in another officer, which brought a chorus of assent.

"No, not I—only these two!" Lanstron replied. "Or, I, too, if you prefer. It little matters. The thing is that I am under a promise to both, which I shall respect. He organized and labored for the same purpose that she played the spy. When we sent the troops forward in a counter-attack and pursuit to clear our soil of the Grays; when I stopped them at the frontier—both were according to Partow's plan. He had a plan and a dream, this wonderful old man who made us all seem primary pupils in the art of war."

Could it be that terrible Partow, a stroke of whose pencil had made the Galloway house an inferno? Marta wondered as Lanstron read his message—the message out of the real heart of the man, throbbing with the power of his great brain. His plan was to hold the Grays to stalemate; to force them to desist after they had battered their battalions to pieces against the Brown fortifications. His dream was the thing that had happened—that an opportunity would come to pursue a broken machine in a bold stroke of the offensive.

"I would want to be a hero of our people for only one aim, to be able to stop our army at the frontier," he had written. "Then they might drive me forth heaped with obloquy, if they chose. I should like to see the Grays demoralized, beaten, ready to sue for peace, the better to prove my point."

staff and a field marshal!" said the vice-chief to Lanstron. "The premier says that every honor the nation can bestow is yours. The capital is mad. The crowds are crying: 'On to the Gray capital! Tomorrow is to be a public holiday and they are calling it Lanstron Day. The thing was so sudden that the speculators who depressed our securities in the world's markets have got their due—ruin! And we ought to get an indemnity that will pay the cost of the war.'"

Seated at one side, Marta could watch all that passed, herself unobscured. She noted a touch of color come to Lanstron's cheeks as he made a little shrug of protest.

Then she saw their faces grow businesslike and keen, as they gathered around the table, with Lanstron at the head. They were oblivious of her presence, immersed in a man's world of war.

"Your orders were obeyed. We have not passed a single white post yet!" said the vice-chief impatiently.

"As the Grays never expected to take the defensive, their fortresses are inferior. Every hour we wait means more time for them to fortify, more time to recover from their demoralization. Our dirigibles having command of the air—we had a wireless from one reporting all clear half-way to the Gray capital—why, we shall know their concentrations while they are ignorant of ours. It's the nation's great opportunity to gain enough provinces to even the balance of population with the Grays. With the unrelenting offensive, blow on blow, using the spirit of our men to drive in mass attacks at the right points, the Gray range is ours!"

to her now, genuine as they had been at the time. Through her varying moods she had really loved him, and the thing that had shimmered in her became the drier fuel for the flame—perhaps too late.

Without him—what then? It seemed that the fatality that had let him escape miraculously from the aeroplane accident, made him chief of staff, and brought him victory, might well choose to ring down the curtain of destiny for him in the charge that drove the last foot of the invader off the soil of the Browns. . . . A voice was calling. . . . She heard it hazily, with a sudden access of giddy fear, before it became a cheerful, clarion cry that seemed to be repeating a message that had already been spoken without her understanding it.

"He's safe, safe, safe, Miss Galloway! He was not hit! He is on his way back and ought to be here very soon!"

She heard herself saying "Thank you!" But that was not for some time. The aide was already gone. He had had his thanks in the effect of the news, which made him think that a chief of staff should not receive congratulations for victory alone.

Lanny would return through the garden. She remained leaning against the wagon body, still faint from happiness, waiting for him. She was drawing deeper and longer breaths that were velvety with the glow of sunshine. A flame, the flame that Lanny had desired, of many gentle yet passionate tongues, leaping hither and thither in glad freedom, was in possession of her being. When his figure appeared out of the darkness the flame swept her to her feet and toward him. Though he might reject her he should know that she loved him; this glad thing, after all the shame she had endured, she could confess triumphantly.

But she stopped short under the whip of conscience. Where was her courage? Where her sense of duty? What right had she, who had played such a horrible part, to think of self? There were other sweethearts with lovers alive who might be dead on the morrow if war continued. The flame sank to a live coal in her secret heart. Another passion possessed her as she seized Lanstron's hand in both her own.

"Lanny, listen! Not the sound of a shot—for the first time since the war began! Oh, the blessed silence! It's peace, peace—let's it to be peace?" As they ascended the steps she was pouring out a flood of broken, feverish sentences which permitted of no interruption. "You kept on fighting today, but you won't tomorrow, will you? It isn't I who plead—it's the women, more women than there are men in the army, who want you to stop now! Can't you hear them? Can't you see them?"

In the fervor of appeal, before she realized his purpose, they were on the veranda and at the door of the dining-room, where the Brown staff was gathered around the table.

"I still rely on you to help me, Marta!" he whispered as he stood to one side for her to enter.

CHAPTER XXII.

The Last Shot.

"Miss Galloway!"

Blinking as she came out of the darkness into the bright light, with a look of her dew-sprinkled dark hair free and brushing her flushed cheek, Marta saw the division chiefs of the Browns, after their start when Lanstron spoke her name, all stand at the salute, looking at her rather than at him. The reality in the flesh of the woman who had been a comrade in service, sacrificing her sensibilities for their cause, appealed to them as a true likeness of their conceptions of her. In their eyes she might read the finest thing that can pass from man's to woman's or from man's to man's. These were the strong men of her people who had driven the burglar from her house with the sword of justice. Their tribute had the steadfast loyalty of soldiers who were craving to do anything in the world that she might ask, whether to go on their knees to her or to kill dragons for her.

"I may come in?" she asked.

"Who if not you is entitled to the privilege of the staff council?" exclaimed the vice-chief.

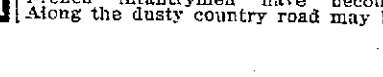

The others did not propose to let him do all the honors. Each murmured words of welcome on his own account.

"We are here, thanks to you!"

"And, thanks to you, our flag will float over the Gray range!"

She must be tired, was their next thought. Four or five of them hurried to place a chair for her, the vice-chief winning over his rivals, more through the exercise of the rights of rank than by any superior alacrity.

"You are appointed actual chief of staff and a field marshal!" said the vice-chief to Lanstron. "The premier says that every honor the nation can bestow is yours. The capital is mad. The crowds are crying: 'On to the Gray capital! Tomorrow is to be a public

THE RATE FOR ADVERTISEMENTS in this classified column is one cent per word per insertion. Nothing less than 10 words accepted. Cash discount 25 per cent if paid at time order is given. Charge accounts 1 cent per word.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

WHEN YOU THINK of insurance, think of C. F. BEERS. 1-28-14.
IT IS GOOD HARDWARE, Mc-
Lambert has it.

SAVORS HONED—25c, Premo Bros. 27-14.
QUALITY CANDIES AT RAZOOK'S. 27-14.

FOR GOOD GOODS Talk to Lowell. 1-15-30-14.
HOLLAND FURNACES make warm
stoves. P. F. Van Coevern. Both phones. 1-21-14.

WANTED—Everybody to get in on our 10 per cent cut on all electrical equipment. Call up before doing any work in our line. M. A. Jorsch, both phones. 1-10-14-17.

Make your House Cleaning easy by renting the Auto Vacuum Cleaner, to scrub rugs and carpets. Frank
H. Porter, new phone 1028 White. 1-10-22-26.

J. S. TAYLOR VOICE CULTURE—Accurate placement and development of the voice. Central Block, Milwaukee, Wis. 1-6-16-20-23.

DRY CLEANING AND DYEING—
Jadger Laundry and Dye Works
do all kinds of dyeing and cleaning by most up-to-date methods. Also laundering by experts. We guarantee perfect results with the most delicious fabrics. 4-10-14-20-23.

THE BUSINESS HOUSES advertising in this column value your pa-perage enough to spend money going after it.

SITUATION WANTED, Female.
A GIRL or WOMAN who advertises here deserves more pay on account of her energy and determination.

WANTED—Washings, baking or drying. New phone 1047 Blue. 3-10-26-31.

WANTED—Washings to do at home.
Bell phone 1388. 3-10-26-31.

SITUATION WANTED, MALE.
AN EMPLOYER, if this column does not describe a man who will fill your requirements your ad on this page will bring him to you.

YOUNG MAN strictly sober and industry, having first class experience, wants work on a farm. First class up-to-date farmers may apply.
Address A. C. Petrie, Wauwatosa, Wis. 2-10-26-31.

FEMALE HELP WANTED.
IF THERE ARE NO POSITIONS
open here for you try advertising for a position yourself. Give the Gazette an address if you like.

WANTED—At once, girl for advertising work. Experience in type-setting necessary. Lewis 4-10-26-31.

WANTED—Experienced cook at the Hotel Sylva. Clinton Junction,
Wis. None other need apply. 4-10-24-31.

WANTED—Two dining room girls.
Also for private houses. Mrs. E.
McCarthy, both phones. 4-10-22-31.

WANTED—Waitresses at Savoy Cafe.
4-10-21-31.

WANTED—Girl for general housework. Apply 320 S. Second St.
White girl preferred. 4-10-21-31.

MALE HELP WANTED.
POSITIONS ARE OPEN to men of ambition. If you want something better advertise under another heading.

WANTED—At once, man with horse or team to deliver established tea and cone tea. Union P. Clinic Tea
Co. 1-26-31.

WANTED—Some one to do grubbing.
James Murphy, Rte. 8, 5 miles northwest of Janesville. 5-10-24-31.

WANTED—Man to work on farm.
Green phone 512. E. J. Bevins. 5-10-24-31.

WANTED—Men to learn the barber trade. Few weeks complete. Good pay made. Best trade in existence.
Our graduates greatly in demand
on account of our thorough training.
Write for catalogue. Adler Barber Shop, Milwaukee, Wis. 5-10-24-31.

WANTED—Men wishing to earn five to five dollars per day. Write for terms immediately. First National Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. 5-10-24-31.

WANTED—Carpenters at Mineral Point, Wisconsin. Must be first class workmen on interior work. Inquire Edward Donahue, Contractor, 100 Locust street, New phone 628 or Mineral Point, Wis. 5-10-24-31.

WANTED—Single man for general farm work. Must be good milker.
H. Hughes, R. C. phone 657-14. 5-10-23-31.

AGENTS WANTED.
WE STRIVE to keep from this page unreliable firms. Let us know if you answer a fake. We will prosecute them.

WANTED, FURNISHED FLAT.
THIS OFFICE is constantly being solicited for addresses of furnished flats. We do not know about yours unless you have an ad running under
"rent."

HOUSES WANTED.
KEEPING ONE EYE ON THIS PAGE will save house owners from losing empty houses. You can rent quicker by advertising.

WANTED TO RENT ROOMS.
I AM WATCHING THIS SPACE the newly furnished room or two furnished rooms can fill them quicker by advertising for rent.

WANTED TO RENT—One furnished room or two furnished rooms. "D."
housekeeping. Address 8-10-26-31.

WANTED LOANS.
MONEY GROWS when it is working. A little spent on this page will find plenty of opportunities to work.

REAL ESTATE WANTED.
DON'T WAIT for someone to advertise under this head. Place your ad in the for sale column.

WANTED, BOARD & ROOMS.
A GOOD BOARD is always in demand. Why not let the "homeless" know you can take a boarder or two and give them home cooked meals?

WANTED, MISCELLANEOUS.
AT A PRICE agreeable to both parties anything you have to dispose of can be quickly sold somewhere on this page.

WANTED TO RENT—Invalid's wheel chair, 1429 Racine street. 6-10-24-31.

WANTED—Child's cart. Good condition, reasonable. State price. Address "B" Gazette. 6-10-23-31.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO RENT.
THE ROOMS YOU WANT may not be here but the owners might answer your ad under another classification.

FOR RENT—Home living rooms, stoves, heavy pieces. Give phone call. Address "Home," Gazette. 8-10-23-31.

FOR RENT—Furnished or unfurnished rooms. New phone 734. White. 8-10-21-31.

BOARD AND ROOM TO RENT.
OFTEN TIMES when there are no advertisements here you can find a good home place by advertising under "Wanted, board and rooms."

FOR RENT—Modern furnished room and board. 224 South Main. 10-10-24-31.

WANTED—Two or three for table board in private family. 620 Pies-ant street. 10-10-26-31.

UNFURNISHED ROOMS TO RENT.
UNDER THIS HEADING an unprofitable bare room or rooms may be become the shelter.

FOR RENT—A room upstairs, modern conveniences. Enquire 600 S.
Academy st. 9-10-25-31.

FOR RENT—Five rooms, inquire at 617 So. Jackson street, Janesville,
Wis. 9-10-26-31.

FLATS FOR RENT.
A GOOD WARM FLAT will be nice this winter. If you do not see anything to suit you here advertise for it under "flats wanted."

FOR RENT—Modern steam heated flat. M. P. Richardson, Lenoxy Block. 11-9-12-24-31.

FOR RENT—A 6-room modern flat.
119 South Jackson. New phone
643. 4-10-24-31.

FOR RENT—Modern 5-room flat. Inquire 521 Cornelia. Old phone 1076.
New 383. 4-10-13-31.

HOUSES FOR RENT.
IT'S A GOOD CITY where ten houses are for rent. There will be houses for rent later which you can get an option on by advertising for it.

FOR RENT—Six-room house with gas, at 532 South Jackson street.
Phone 732 Red. 11-10-26-31.

FOR RENT—Small house on Carline street. Inquire Chas. H. Ward, the drug man. 11-10-26-31.

FOR RENT—Four-room house, hard and soft water. 410 Terrace street.
$10 a month. 11-10-26-31.

FOR RENT—Modern house, No. 414
North Washington street. J. T. De Forest, Bell phone 674 or Red 5074.
11-10-26-31.

FOR RENT—The McKinney homestead, 231 Court St. Eleven rooms.
Modern throughout. Carter 11-10-26-31.

FOR RENT—Six room house at 223
Park St. Phone or call Dr. E. E.
Loomis residence. 11-9-12-31.

STORES FOR RENT.
FOR RENT—The middle store in Norcross Block. Apply to F. L.
Stevens, Lenoxy Block. 4-10-14-31.

FARMS TO LET.
BACK TO THE FARM may be the right solution. If you don't find a farm here advertise for it.

EXCHANGE AND BARTER.
A CLEARING HOUSE for everything is what this page is called.

WANTED TO TRADE—A nice building lot for a 1912 or 1913 Ford
Touring car. Bell phone 1074. 3-10-24-31.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY.
OPPORTUNITY comes only to hustlers. If you are you are busy, a Gazette want ad will hustle for you by proxy.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.
REAL BARGAINS in musical instruments are daily advertised.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS FOR SALE.
ODD PIECES of furniture can be bought reasonably if you watch this space regularly.

FOR SALE—Cheap, fine chunk stove,
good as new. 326 Park avenue.
Bell phone 594. 10-10-26-31.

FOR SALE—Favorite Stove in good condition. 512 So. High. 10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—A brilliant Sunshine stove. Can be bought at a bargain.
215 South Cherry. 10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Sleepy Hollow chair, brown upholstering, also small but fat for dining room; both in good condition. 120 Jackson street, Phone 512, Rock Co. 10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—3-burner gas plate, first class condition. Phone 661 Red.
270 South Jackson street. 10-10-26-31.

FOR SALE—Acorn Oak Heating
stoves will burn Soft Coal, Hard Coal, Coke or Wood. All styles.
Talk to Lowell. 10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Air tight stove, wood only. $200. Talk to Lowell. 10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Large size Peninsula Heating stove, $100.00. Easy payments. Talk to Lowell. 10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Second hand Riverside stove in good condition. R. C.
phone 5566Q, Farmer Line. 10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE CHEAP—Small kitchen range, and office chair. 703 S.
Main. 10-10-26-31.

FOR SALE—Peninsula Heating Stove with oven, $100.00. Talk to Lowell. 10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Gas kitchen Heater almost new, $50.00. Talk to Lowell.
10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Household goods. Most sold at once. Call from 2 to 5
p. m. or phone number 557 Peters apartments No. 4. 10-10-16-31.

FOR SALE—Clean scrag soap barrel with head, 75 cents at Gazette. 10-10-6-31.

FOR SALE, MISCELLANEOUS.
PEOPLE ADVERTISING HERE
soon find that advertising pays. These same people would read your ad under "Wanted."

FOR SALE—Oak truck, for coal or ashes at a bargain. Gazette. 10-10-26-31.

FOR SALE—Shock corn, ear corn and sweet corn stalks delivered. C. H.
Van Galder. Phone 765 Red. 10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Potatoes, good size and delivered. C. R. Van Galder.
phone 156 Red. 10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Second hand Pipe Heating Drum, $100. Talk to Lowell.
10-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—A good safe. P. H.
Quinn & Co. 10-10-26-31.

KILN DRIED MAPLE CLIPPINGS.
Just the thing for a $2.50 per load. Sculler Lumber Co.
13-10-16-26-31.

PAPER TOWELS AND FIXTURES—
Sundry and economical for schools, and public buildings, factories, work
rooms, etc. per roll, 39 case of 60 rolls. Gazette Printing Dept., Phone 77-4 Rhine Bell, 27 Rock Co. 13-12-31.

FOR SALE—First class horse or cow milk. $1 per hundred weight. Doty milk. 13-10-17-31.

FOR SALE—Old newspapers, 5 cents
a bundle. Gazette Office. 13-5-24-31.

FOR SALE—Complete map of Rock County, showing all roads, schools, houses, churches, towns, villages,
cities, railroads, farms with number of acres and all information. Printed on strong bond paper, handy size.
Price 35c or free with a year advance subscription to the Daily Gazette. 13-10-17-31.

THE NEW GAZETTE PARCELS
giving all units of the United States from our Unit No. 2262, the most correct map published, are ready for delivery at the Gazette. By paying subscriptions and paying for the one year in advance for the Daily Gazette, the map will be sent free. Gazette patrons may have it at 25 cents or by mail at 35 cents. 2-13-14.

FOR SALE—At St. Joseph's Convent
a new set of Rosary Beads, Gold Chains, Medallions, Statues, Crucifixes and Prayer Books at reasonable prices. 13-12-9-31.

FOR SALE—Engraved cards, wedding invitations and announcements engraved and embossed. Stationery produced. We have the latest and newest letter designs. We have connections with several engraving houses which give us very prompt service. Call phone Rock Co. 27.
Bell 77-4 for Printing Department of the Gazette. 13-12-9-31.

BICYCLE SUPPLIES—Premo Brothers. 13-11-23-31.

BOWLING AND BILLIARDS.
FOR SALE—New and second-hand
carom and pocket billiard tables.
Bowling alleys and accessories, bar fixtures of all kinds. Easy payment plans. "WE TRUST THE PEOPLE." The Brunswick-Balke-Clender Co., 275-277-279 West Water street, Milwaukee. 13-7-13-31.

AUTOMOBILES.
IF YOU DON'T FIND WHAT YOU WANT here, advertise for it.

FOR SALE—1912 Ford Touring Car,
5 passenger, new Mohair top, Mohairs covers, newly painted, just overhauled, shock absorbers, new lights, Master Vibrator, $350.00. 1911 Cadillac Touring Car, new tires, new painted, bargain. 2-drawer Cash register in first class condition.
$65.00. Robert T. Burgess. 13-10-24-31.

OXY-ACETYLENE Welding fields
any broken automobile part short notice. Janesville Motor Co.
17-19 So. Main street. 13-5-12-31.

MOTORCYCLES.
SECOND HAND MOTORCYCLES
are often as good as new for your purpose. Keep an eye on these ads but buy one cheap.

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLE RE-PAIRS. Knives and scissor sharpened. Saws filed. Clippers sharpened.
C. H. Cox, Corn Exchange. 37-11-20-24-31.

MONEY TO LOAN.
MONEY MAY BE HAD on good security if you can interest those who have it. Let them know through these columns what your needs are. Give this office as your address if you prefer. 37-11-20-24-31.

FINANCIAL.
FINANCIAL PROPOSITIONS must first pass the Gazette's investigation
as to merit, before the ad appears.

HARDWARE.
HARDWARE can be sold at a profit and bought at a saving under this heading.

FOR SALE CHEAP—Furnace for heating residence; hot water heat, splendid working order. Dr. Jas.
Mills. 14-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Medium size Jewell Coal Heater, $12.00. Easy payments. Talk to Lowell. 14-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Second hand Art Garland in perfect order, easy payments, $10.00. Talk to Lowell. 14-10-24-31.

FOR SALE—Gas range, good condition; $4.00. Talk to Lowell. 14-10-24-31.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE.
EXCHANGE YOUR PROPERTY
for one that will better suit you. This can be done with an ad under this classification.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.
MANY A BARGAIN IN REAL ES-TATE can be picked up by daily reading these ads. If in a hurry advertise under "Real estate wanted."

HORSES AND CARRIAGES.
ARE YOU INTERESTED in buying or selling a horse or carriage?
Place your advertisement here and your desires will be accomplished.

FOR SALE—Lady's driving horse.
Inquire 221 Locust street, New phone 528. 21-10-24-31.

LIVESTOCK.
FOR SALE—Jersey Duroc boars. Inquire W. H. Hughes, R. C. phone 5575-U. 21-10-23-31.

FOR SALE—Duroc boar, twenty months old. A choice one. J. R.
Thomson, Edgerton, Wis. R. F. D.
No. 4, Old phone 5093 Red. 21-10-25-31.

POULTRY AND HOUSEHOLD
PETS.
SOMEBODY WANTS what you want advertise here.

SPORTSMEN—I have a fine flock of genuine wild mallards; natural callers; fine decoys. Write or phone for particulars. Elmer Ober, Edgerton, Wis. Phone 319-F3. 13-10-23-31.

MACHINERY AND TOOLS.
MANY PIECES OF MACHINERY
are bought and sold under this head.

FARM IMPLEMENTS.
FARMERS CAN SAVE MONEY
and get rid of an unwanted implement by using the Gazette ads.

BICYCLES.
BICYCLING is a healthful pastime.
These ads will tell you where to buy
HIGH GRADE BICYCLES. C. H. Cox.
45-11-29-31.

PREMO BROTHERS for Bicycles.
45-11-29-31.

FARMERS, ATTENTION.
FARMERS SAVE MONEY by reading these offerings daily.

FOR SALE—One 6-roll McCormick Improved Shredder, one 6-roll Apleton Shredder, one 6-h. Full Johnson engine, one first class condition. Nitscher Implement Co.
60-10-26-31.

Sell your house or any other piece of real estate you may have thru the want ad column—the cost is but a trifle.

SAFETY AND SECURITY.
Efforts to Tamper With Contents of Envelope Will Be Revealed.

Efforts to get information of the character of the contents of a letter by unauthorized persons will be immediately detected by the use of the new envelope which has been recently invented. These perforations are made in that part of the envelope known as the flap, being punched through the paper close to the edge. In the body of the envelope there are some corre-

perforations made the envelope safe.

spending embossures, and when the envelope is sealed these registers. Any attempt to open the envelope by steaming the flap or other means will result in such mutilation of the paper that the resealing cannot be neatly done, and the efforts to tamper with the contents of the envelope will be manifest on the surface.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

perforations made the en-
velope safe.

Evansville News

Evansville, Oct. 26.—The following splendid program was given Friday evening, October 23rd, by the College Literary society of the seminary at an open meeting.

Vocal Solo—Miss Madge Robinson. Literary Paper—Mr. Carson. 1st chapter of College Girl Contest story—Miss Ida Welch. Instrumental duet—Misses Esther and Marian Franklin. Recitation—Miss Jessie McMurry. Progressivism in Wisconsin—Mr. Hugh Benton. School Song—Society. Critic's report—Miss Miller. The meeting was well attended and

NO HEADACHE OR NEURALGIA PAIN

Get a 10 cent package of Dr. James' Headache Powders and don't suffer.

When your head aches you simply must have relief or you will go wild. It's needless to suffer when you can take a remedy like Dr. James' Headache Powders and relieve the pain and neuralgia at once. Send some one to the drug store now for a dime package of Dr. James' Headache Powders. Don't suffer. In a few moments you will feel fine—headache gone—no more neuralgia pain.

AUCTION!

Having rented my farm, known as the Sloan farm, at the edge of the city of Janesville on Racine St., I will sell at public auction on TUESDAY, OCT. 27, '14

Commencing at 10:00 o'clock a. m. the following described property:

12 HEAD OF HORSES
1 mare with foal, 1 horse 7 years old, 1 team 3 and 4 years old, 1 team of drivers 8 years old, 1 team of driving ponies 1 colt 1 year old, 1 Suckling colt.

35 HEAD OF CATTLE
Consisting of 7 milch cows with calves at side; 23 cows close up, all will be in inside of two to five weeks; 4 yearling bulls weighing 700 pounds each, two Durhams and two Holsteins; 1 yearling Holstein heifer; 1 yearling black heifer.

ABOUT 10 TONS OF CHOICE HAY IN BARN; 10 TONS OF CORN. FARM MAHINERY, WAGONS, ETC.

A FREE LUNCH WILL BE SERVED AT NOON.

TERMS OF SALE—All sums of $10.00 or under, cash; over that amount 5 months' time will be given on good bankable paper, with interest at 6 per cent. No goods to be removed until satisfactorily settled for.

JOHN DREW

THOS. M. RAFTER, Auctioneer.

PROPRIETOR

the delivery in every number was excellent.

Following the adjournment of the society, the students repaired to the campus where a "comp fire" was made, wieners and marshmallows roasted and sandwiches made. This was given in honor of the faculty and college who won the baseball game of Friday afternoon, this being between the faculty and college versus the preparatory students. Needless to say, all enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Miss Madeline Spencer motored to Brodhead Sunday.

Prof. Babcock of Madison, spent Saturday and Sunday at the seminary.

Mrs. Erwin Gabriel and daughter, Miss Fannie, attended at the "Brotherhood" in Madison Saturday afternoon.

H. O. Meyers returned Saturday night from a visit in Verona.

Miss Nellie Babcock returned to her home in Footville after a visit with her sister, Miss Gladys Van Patten, of this city.

Miss Marjorie Spencer was a Janesville visitor Saturday.

Miss Minnie Jones is enjoying a vacation from her duties in the post office.

Mrs. Delbert Smith and mother, Mrs. E. Hubbard, of Brooklyn, were Evansville visitors Friday.

Mrs. Terwilliger of Madison was a guest at the Central House last week.

Sheriff Whipple and son and Mr. and Mrs. David Barlass of Janesville motored here on business Friday.

Miss Minnie Milbrandt and Joseph, spent the week end at her parental home.

Mrs. B. A. Meyers and daughter Helen were Janesville visitors Saturday.

Mrs. M. Chase spent the latter part of last week in Footville.

Misses. Footville and Young of Monroe were business visitors here Friday.

H. H. Summers of Janesville was a business visitor here the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Robert McCay spent the week end in Footville.

A. C. Thorpe of Janesville was a business visitor here Friday.

Joe Eastman was a Beloit visitor the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Broughton and Mr. and Mrs. Frank West motored to Janesville Saturday, spending the afternoon and evening with friends there.

Miss Zara Howard of Madison spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Howard.

Miss Thora Brunzell spent Sunday in Madison with a cousin.

Mrs. W. Milbrandt and son Frank were Janesville visitors Saturday.

Mrs. R. E. Shuster and son Harold were visitors in Janesville Saturday.

Frank Wilder of Madison spent Saturday and Sunday at his parental home.

Hugh Ahara of Beloit spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ahara.

George Heavey of Milton Junction was an Evansville visitor Saturday.

Mrs. Peter Garry was a Janesville visitor Saturday.

Miss Marjorie Wilder of Madison visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilder, Sunday.

Miss Minnie Jones is visiting friends in Clinton this week.

Miss Emma Kunk of Madison spent the week end at her parental home.

Miss Alice Murphy of Oregon spent the week end with friends here.

Miss Alma Brunzell of Madison spent the week end at her parental home.

Clement Evans of Madison spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Evans.

Miss Helen Brunzell of Madison spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brunzell.

Miss Ella Townsend and niece, little Miss Harriet Andrews of Calville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Townsend yesterday.

V. D. Brown spent the week end with relatives in Caledonia.

Miss Jessie Kelley spent Sunday at her parental home in Beloit.

John Manning returned to Janesville Saturday after a brief visit with Col. Geo. Hale and family.

Mrs. Lydia Smith returned to Beloit Saturday, after a brief visit here.

Spencer Pullen of Madison spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Pullen.

Fred Hall of Cameron is spending a few days in town on business.

Rev. Lyle Hatfield of Burnett is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hatfield.

Miss Cora Morgan was a Janesville visitor Saturday.

Mrs. George Bainbridge and daughter Abbey left Saturday for a visit with relatives and friends in Kenosha.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McMullen returned to Madison last night, after a brief visit at the Chas. Decker home.

Miss Faye Sperry of Madison spent the week end at her parental home.

Miss Nellie Gardner of Footville visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gardner yesterday.

C. Stokes of Brooklyn was the guest of local friends yesterday.

Everett Van Fatten of the University of Wisconsin visited his parents over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Cary, son Donovan and daughter Jean were Janesville visitors Sunday.

Miss Vera Dawes of Brodhead spent the week end with her mother.

Mrs. Frank Holmes of Stoughton spent Sunday with her husband here.

Mrs. C. S. Ware and daughter, Nina Manger, spent Sunday with relatives near Albany.

Mrs. Addie E. Combs was a Rockford visitor today.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hyne and son Francis spent Sunday with Mrs. Hyne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Francis, near Albany.

Porter Porter was a Magnolia visitor Friday.

Mrs. Etta Moore is visiting relatives and friends in Brodhead.

Misses Anna, Martha and Clara Kuelz spent Sunday at Magnolia.

Miss Bernice Lettis spent the week end at her parental home, in Magnolia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hyne, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tupper, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jorgenson and Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Gillman motored Sunday to White-water, where they spent the day with friends.

Miss Loretta Morton of Brooklyn was the week end guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles Murphy.

DECREASE OF OVER 2 MILLION DOLLARS IN STATE TAX LEVY

Secretary of State Donald Officially Announces New Levy for Present Year.—Rock County Levy.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—The total state tax levy will be $2,352,955 less this year than last year, according to the official announcement of Secretary of State John S. Donald today. The total state tax levy last year was $4,655,915 compared with a levy of $5,272,363 this year. The state tax rate this year is .0016616391495.

The total amount of state tax collected in Rock county in 1913 was $234,982.57 compared with $149,539.74 for this year. The collection of the state tax in Rock county this year is made up as follows: Interest on certificates of indebtedness, $4,470.76; free high schools, $4,955.31; graded schools, $3,674.48; normal schools, $15,004.62; common schools, $37,344.32; state highways, $28,373.19.

The total tax of $5,272,363 for the year 1914 is made up as follows: Interest on trust fund certificates of indebtedness, $187,570; free high schools, $175,000; normal schools, $200,000; state university, $1,139,376; common schools, $228,331; common schools, $2,021,082; state highways, $1,090,000.

Total, $5,272,363. "You will recall that last year it was found necessary to levy a special tax of $1,000,000," says Secretary of State Donald in his letter to the county clerks today. "Not only is it unnecessary to repeat this tax for the current year, but it is possible to eliminate entirely the $450,000 tax for the new capital and $200,000 of the authorized $1,300,000 for highways."

"I find that the estimate of general fund receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, was too low. The estimate was prepared with the utmost care, but final data were not available at that time. There was received from railroad companies and departmental fees several hundred thousand dollars more than was anticipated; for this reason it is now possible to remit $550,000 of the state tax for the ensuing year."

"Section 1089 of the statutes empowers the governor, the secretary of state and the state treasurer to apply any surplus in the general fund as a part of the state tax levy. Action by this board was taken October 21, remitting the above mentioned $550,000. This makes a total of $9,308,410 remitted during the past eleven years.

For the year 1913 the total state tax levied in Milwaukee county was $1,488,118.66 as compared with $1,025,790.33 for this year; for Douglas county $143,624.69 as compared with $105,533.41; for Winnebago county, $175,675 compared with $123,553.10 this year; for Fond du Lac county $137,829.59, compared with $124,271.36; and for La Crosse county $106,442.33 compared with $72,677.58.

Staggered the Witness.
"Now tell us," sternly demanded the young legal luminary whose brow overhung like the back of a snapping turtle, addressing the cowering witness, "what was the weather, if any, upon the afternoon in question?"

Whitewater News

Whitewater, October 26.—Master Robert Willis Rounds came Friday to spend the week end at the Thomas Godfrey home. His brothers, David and Stewart visited at the D. O. Kinsman home.

The Shutt's cottage at Lauderdale lake was occupied over Sunday by Messrs. Shutt, Lang, Upham, Yoder, Rittenburg and Rounds.

Several Whitewater ladies were guests at a luncheon given by Mrs. Gerald J. Cox at Hebron on Friday. Mrs. J. V. Hall entertained a few friends at a luncheon on Friday in honor of Mrs. Amos Shephard of Minneapolis.

A birthday party which was a surprise to Mrs. E. M. Rowe was given in her honor by her daughter, Mrs. Charles Church of Watworth avenue on Thursday, October 22. A six o'clock dinner was served to twelve guests. Mesdames E. M. Towle, G. H. Johnson, Henry Holmes, John Fulton, Odie Creighton, E. P. Goodman, Charles Rockwell, O. B. Williams, Bessie Mahan, L. E. Coburn, Mrs. Battles and Miss Evaline Culler were among those present.

Mrs. Towle was present with a birthday book and many flowers and was recipient of several other gifts from friends who could not be present.

Harold G. Anderson spent the week end in Madison with a college roommate who has been living in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taft of Jefferson street left Saturday night for LeRoy, Minn., to visit their son. They expect to stay to Riceville, Iowa, on their return to visit their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Mulks.

Richard Wyche, president of the National Story Teller's League, is expected to be at the Normal school on November 13.

The Alumni of the Whitewater State Normal school will hold a banquet at the Hotel Wisconsin at 12:30 on Friday, November 6.

The second number of the Whitewater Lecture Course was enjoyed by a large audience in the First Congregational church on Friday evening to listen to a recital presented by "The Ernest Gamble Concert Party." The three members of the company were Ernest Gamble, basso cantante; Miss Verna Page, violinist and Miss Aline Kuhn, pianist, and they were most interesting and generous to respond to applause. The versatility of the artists was shown by their rendering selections from several schools of music.

Mrs. Edward Jones and Miss Mary Jones were guests of Whitewater friends on Saturday.

Miss Nell Wheeler is visiting Miss Lucy Baker at the Conger home on Main street.

Mrs. Frank Ray of Minneapolis was the guest of Mrs. Margaret Roby last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Alice Sherman Barber motored from Geneva on Sunday and she and her daughter Miss Caroline Barber left on the evening train to attend the funeral of a relative in Milwaukee.

A daughter, Charlotte Gray, was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gray on Sunday, October 25, and her one sister and six brothers rejoice with her parents in her arrival.

The Luscious Peppermint Flavor is DOUBLE STRENGTH in this latest confection—it has lots of "Pep!"

The Velvet Smooth Chewing Gum

WRIGLEYS' DOUBLEMINT CHEWING GUM

DOUBLE STRENGTH PEPPERMINT FLAVOR
DOUBLE WRAPPED—ALWAYS FRESH AND CLEAN

For Lovers of Peppermint

and with each 5c Package is a United PROFIT SHARING Coupon

UNITED PSC

good for Valuable Presents

WRIGLEYS' SPEARMINT

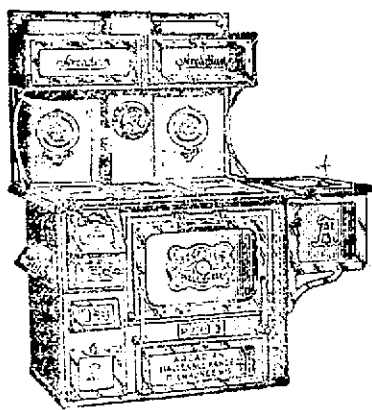

now also comes with United Coupons

McNamara's First Annual Sale

The Greatest Money Saving Opportunity of the Year, Offering In Its Money Saving Chances

THE GIFT OF ALL GIFTS

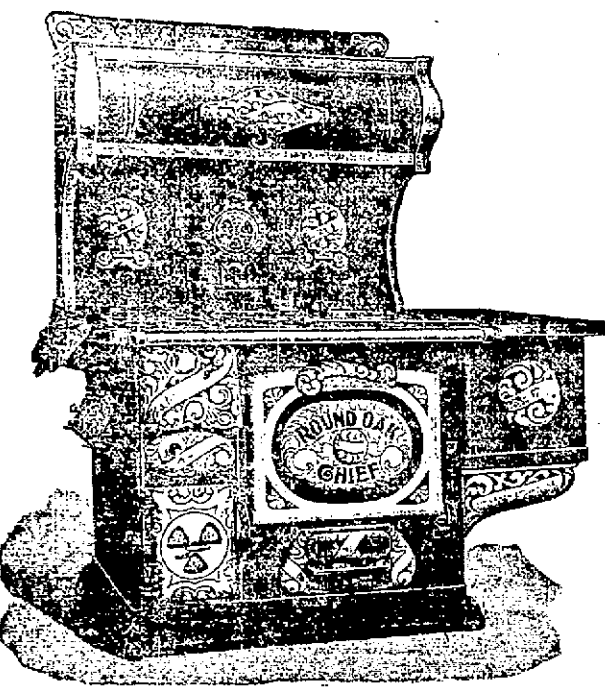

Will you come here and share in the bargain good things? Anyone can find some article here that they want at a bargain price. Several hundred people attended today, the first day of the sale, in spite of the weather. Hundreds will come each day this week. It would be wise to be among the first who come. First here first served. Be early. Don't wait. Avoid the rush.

Wonderful Bargains In Stoves

THINK OF IT! BARGAIN IN STOVES WHEN THEY'RE MOST NEEDED. RIGHT NOW WHEN THE GENUINE ARTICLE OF WINTER IS BEGINNING TO ASSERT ITSELF WE OFFER THESE UNHEARD OF BARGAINS IN STOVES.

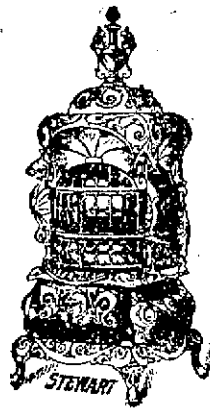

WE HAVE THE MOST COMPLETE STOVE STOCK IN THE NORTHWEST, HANDLING ONLY STANDARD MAKES OF RELIABLE QUALITY STOVES.

Base Burner Stoves

These Base Burners are the highest grade; have ground dampers and ground doors so that every piece fits perfectly, trimmed beautifully with full demountable nickel. The value are unheard of.

Regular $45.00 Base Burner, sale price at $38.50
Regular $47.50 Base Burner, sale price at $40.00
Regular $55.00 Base Burner, sale price at $47.50
Regular $60.00 Base Burner sale price at $52.00
Regular $38.50 Base Burner, sale price at $29.50

Oak Stoves

No. 13, regular value, $8.50; First Annual Sale Price $6.00

No. 15, regular value, $10.00; First Annual Sale Price $7.75

No. 17, regular value, $12.00; First Annual Sale Price $9.50

No. 19, regular value, $15.00; First Annual Sale Price $11.25

Six-hole Steel Range, with duplex grate, reservoir, high closet, regular price, $38.00; First Annual Sale Price $26.25

These prices as quoted are only a few. Our entire line will be offered at proportionate reductions, during this sale only.

Cylinder Stoves

These little cylinders are tremendous heaters, made of Russia Iron body and are brick lined.

Regular $9.00 Cylinder Stove, sale price at $7.25

Regular $10.00 Cylinder Stove, sale price at $8.25

Regular $11.00 Cylinder Stove, sale price at $8.75

Regular $12.00 Cylinder Stove, sale price at $9.75

Complete stock of Zinc Baseboards and Linoleums for stove rests.

If It Is Good Hardware McNamara Has It.

H. L. McNAMARA

If It Is Good Hardware McNamara Has It.